Price Comparison Shows Meat, Eggs Up During March

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The price of hamburger meat, eggs and frankfurters went up during March in an Associated Press spot survey of 14 items on a sample shopping list. Other food and grocery items generally stayed the same, but butter prices went down.

The AP checked the prices of 14 food and non-food items in 12 cities on March 1 and rechecked the prices of the same things in the same stores on April 2 — the first shopping day of the month and coincidentally the first shopping day of the nationwide meat boycott called to try to lower prices.

Among the results:
Frankfurters led the list of higher-price items. The cost of a pound of beef frankfurters went up in 9 of the 12 cities, down in one and was unchanged in two. Chopped chuck went up in six cities, was down in none and was unchanged in five; medium white eggs went up in eight cities, down in two and were unchanged in two.

Butter was down in more cities than any other item — five — followed by pork chops which showed declines in four cities. Milk prices stayed the same everywhere.

There was no apparent pattern to the changes. Increases ranged from a penny or two on most items to 30 cents on a pound of frankfurters in one city.

The cities checked covered a wide geographical area. A standard list of sizes and brands was used. If the checklist item was not available, the closest thing in size or type of product was checked. The stores surveyed were supermarkets rather than discount operations or small specialty shops.

Albuquerque, N.M., reported the largest number of price rises — six; Salt Lake City, Utah had the fewest — none.

Involved in the survey were Atlanta, Miami, Chicago, Detroit, Dallas, Albuquerque, Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Seattle, Philadelphia, New York and Providence, R.I.

The items on the marketbasket list were: one pound chopped chuck, one pound center cut pork chops, one small can of Bird's Eye frozen orange juice, one pound of regular grind Maxwell House coffee, one two-roll package of Scott Paper Towels, one pound of butter cut into quarter, one dozen medium white eggs, on 12-ounce jar of Kippy peanut butter, one 49-ounce box of All detergent, one 8-ounce can of Del Monte tomato juice, one 14½-ounce bag of Nabisco chocolate chip cookies, one quart of whole milk, one pound of all-beef frankfurters and one 5-pound bag of Domino granulated pure cane sugar.

Boycott Cuts Sales

By WILLIAM GILLEN
Associated Press Writer

Farmers were reported holding back their cattle and hogs from the market as the nationwide meat boycott entered its fourth day today.

Slaughter houses continued to lay off workers, retailers cut their beef orders and consumers stuck to their meatless menus.

But the full effect of the weeklong protest may not be known until later this week, since meat sales tend to build up toward the weekend.

Midwest marketing specialists said that farmers delivered 52,700 head of cattle to the nation's 11 major markets during the first two days of last week. This week, the figure for the first two days was down to 33,500.

Ordinarily, such a drastic cutback in the supply of cattle would cause buyers to bid prices up. But because of the boycott, packers were buying less and prices held relatively steady.

Hog shipments at 11 major markets Tuesday totaled 18,000, compared with 40,000 a week ago and 44,000 for the same week a year ago.

The slack in buying cattle and hogs at the wholesale level resulted in widespread layoffs of meat packers.

In Omaha, Neb., Sioux Beef Co. remained closed for the seventh consecutive work day Tuesday. Iowa Beef Processors of Dakota City, Neb., had closed or curtailed operations at Fort Dodge and Mason City, Iowa, and Inverness, Minn. Hygrade Food Products of Storm Lake, Iowa, said it would lay off 75 to 100 slaughtering workers.

At the same time, scattered surveys showed retail meat sales off as much as 50 per cent. Officials of the Fedmart Stores chain, based in San Diego, Calif., said sales of "red meat" in its 40 stores in California, Arizona and Texas were off by 40 per cent.

One supermarket in the Cleveland, Ohio, area reported meat sales down 50 per cent Monday and 40 per cent Tuesday. Charles Fazio of the Fisher-Fazio-Costa chain predicted sales will be off 30 per cent for the week.

From firehouse to governor's mansion, consumers seemed to close ranks behind the boycott.

City firemen in Roanoke, Va., say they won't serve any meat at any of the city's 11 firehouses this week. A spokesman at one station said the 200 firemen usually eat 500 pounds of meat a week, which they buy out of their own pocket.

In Baton Rouge, La, Gov. Edwin

Edwards said he instructed cooks at the governor's mansion to prepare shrimp, oysters and crawfish for the state's first family.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay issued a directive for all city institutions not to serve meat Thursday. A spokesman for the mayor said Lindsay is supporting the boycott personally by not eating meat this week.

Meanwhile, Columbus area meat suppliers reported they were beginning to feel the pinch of the boycott.

"It appears that things are tightening up in our area," said Ed Wilke, president of the Ohio Packing Co.

"We're beginning to feel it," he said. "There haven't been any layoffs yet, but we're on the verge of it."

However, the Val Decker Packing

Co. reported it had laid off 110 employees earlier this week and the Teeters Packing Co. said it had sent five meatcutters home because of slower sales.

A cashier at an east Columbus Kroger store said there had been a "big drop" in meat sales there, and an A&P store supervisor said meat purchases at his store were "a little off."

Council Tables Legislation On Water Improvement

The business agenda of Circleville Council meeting Tuesday followed a lengthy public debate on the new sewerage rate imposed by a January 2 ordinance.

Official business by council members included tabling of two ordinances presented by the department of public utilities, the holding of three for further study and passage of three.

Of the two ordinances tabled, one authorized the director of public utilities to enter into a contract for detailed plans for improvements to the water treatment plant, distribution lines and increasing water storage capacity.

The proposed new water system improvements consist of increasing the capacity of the water treatment plant from 2 million gallons per day to 4 million gallons per day, adding water softening facilities, adding a 1 million gallon elevated storage tank on the south side in the vicinity of Crites Road and a 1 million gallon ground storage tank located in an area northeast of the city.

Second Ward Councilman Robert Kenworthy made the motion to table the legislation because he felt there were some areas of the proposal that warranted further study.

Kenworthy also made the motion to table the ordinance which would have authorized detailed engineering for the proposed Hargus Creek Interceptor, a large sanitary sewer extending from Route 22 at the Scioto River Bridge northward to Hargus Creek and eastward along Hargus Creek through the city. This interceptor would replace the existing lift station at Ted Lewis Park and make the entire city sewer system gravity flow. Again Kenworthy said there were some areas of the proposal that needed further study by council.

An ordinance was approved directing the director of public utilities to apply for two parcels of state canal land containing approximately 8½ acres. The state will transfer the land to the city at no cost. However, an ordinance authorizing the director of public utilities to purchase a tract of land containing approximately an acre and a half from Lee and Ella Giffen was held for a third reading. Councilman Ben Gordon asked Taylor to have a disinterested realtor appraise the property to see if the $8,500 agreed upon is a fair price.

An ordinance authorizing the director of public service to enter into a contract with Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric for lighting the streets and alleys was held for a third reading.

An ordinance authorizing the director of public utilities to advertise for bids for a computerized monthly billing for the city sewer and water departments was approved at its first reading Tuesday. Charles Taylor, director of public utilities, said that the department should be converted to monthly billing in about 60 days.

Two ordinances transferring $6,000 each from the sanitary sewer fund and the water works operating fund to pay the estimated cost of the monthly billing were approved.

Three "bookkeeping" ordinances were approved to correct an over-appropriation in the annual appropriation ordinance. The ordinances reduced the major street improvement appropriation from $65,000 to $60,563.53 and the service department equipment account from $17,000 to $14,000. Legislation transferring $4,436.47 from federal revenue sharing trust fund to the capital improvement fund, major street improvement, was then approved.

The ordinance to rezone an area along E. Corwin St. from Clinton St. westward was held for a second reading.

Request To Rezone Corwin St. Area For Industry Is Opposed

Circleville Council meeting Tuesday was preceded by a public hearing concerning the rezoning of approximately 1.89 acres of land on E. Corwin St. from residential to light industrial.

The rezoning, requested by Robert J. Mathews, Charles Rutter, Jack Wise and Bowling Stockyard, met with opposition from residents in the area.

A petition opposing the rezoning containing 131 signatures was presented to council Robert Huffer, attorney and representative of those requesting the rezoning, said that most of the land is vacant or contains buildings that are in a decrepit state.

He pointed out that industry in the area is Bowling Stockyards, USS Chemicals, J. W. Eshelman and Sons, Circleville Iron and Metal, Swifts Farm Center fertilizer warehouse and a veterinary supply firm. According to Huffer the land had originally been zoned for industry under the old zoning regulations but when the new zoning code was passed it had been rezoned for residential use. He said present owners had acquired the land when it was zoned industrial.

The main objection of those speaking against the rezoning seemed to be a concern the Bowling Livestock Yard would expand, even though Huffer explained it couldn't under the present zoning laws.

The residents complained the vacant land in the area is presently being used as a parking lot for livestock trucks. One area resident, Bob Jones, 328 E.

Ohio St., said he had seen "those stinking cattle trucks parked this close (he indicated an arm's length) to homes."

Huffer said the only planned use of the land at present was by Robert Mathews to construct a new building to house his veterinary and animal medicine supply firm. Roy Walisa, 335 E. Ohio St., said the residents had no objection to rezoning the one tract of ground so Mathews could construct the building, but they did object to rezoning the entire area at this time.

An ordinance on the rezoning was read during the regular council meeting and held for further study. Councilman Ben Gordon said he wanted to have an opportunity to view the area personally. Councilman David Goldschmidt requested that the Planning and Zoning commission be present at the next council meeting to explain the reasons for recommending rezoning of the area.

Blue Cross Rate Boost Ban Upheld

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An order denying a $2.2 million rate increase sought by Blue Cross of Northwest Ohio in Toledo was upheld by a Franklin County Common Pleas Court judge Tuesday.

Judge Clifford Rader's ruling affirmed an earlier decision by Ohio Insurance Director Kenneth DeShelter last November.

The decision by Rader was opposite to one issued Jan. 12 by Common Pleas Court Judge Craig Wright, who allowed a rate increase in Blue Cross rates in Central Ohio.

Rader said he was aware of the ruling in the Central Ohio case, but felt the "case is substantially different in content and that it deserves a different result."

Rader said it was the duty of the court to determine if DeShelter's decision was fair, reasonable and supported by evidence. Rader said he found DeShelter's decision was proper and supported by reliable evidence.

DeShelter in denying the increase, said Blue Cross of Toledo had failed to exert any effective influence over its member hospitals to operate more efficiently.

DeShelter made similar charges against Blue Cross of Central Ohio.

DeShelter also said Blue Cross of Toledo voluntarily reimburses hospitals for bad debts and charity patients, thereby increasing the amount of money it must collect from its direct pay subscribers.

No Relief In Sight For Increased Sewer Rates

Circleville Council Chambers were packed Tuesday with irate citizens seeking relief from the drastically increased sewerage rates assessed by the Department of Public Utilities to pay for the proposed new sewage treatment plant.

And after three hours of sometimes very heated debate council was not able to offer a satisfactory solution to their problem. The problem is the city has been mandated by federal and state environmental protection agencies and the state department of health to build a new sewerage treatment plant.

A plant that will meet all the guidelines established by the state and federal EPA and the state health department will cost an estimated $4,719,000 to build. It will cost an estimated $375,000 annually to pay for the operation of the plant, interest and principal retirement of the money the city will have to borrow for its construction and to provide a "sinking fund" for emergencies.

The city has made application to the Ohio Water Development Authority to borrow the $4,719,000. Three-fourths of the loan of $3,539,000 will be paid by a federal grant. The remaining $1,180,000 must be paid by the city.

In order to qualify for the loan and the grant, the city had to present a rate schedule which satisfied OWDA. And in most instances the rate means a tremendous increase over the old flat rate of $2.40 per quarter that has been charged individual residents since 1957.

Charles Wright, a member of Floyd G. Browne and Associates of Marion, was on hand to explain the new rates. It was he who developed the new rate schedule.

He stated about $160,000 of the money raised will be used for operation of the new plant, $160,000 used for debt retirement, and the rest will be placed in a "sinking fund" for emergencies.

According to Wright, the first step in establishing the new rates was to change from a flat rate basis to a pro rata basis on the amount of water used.

"This can produce the wide differential of the first billing," Wright said. "When people have been paying a flat rate, they tend to not be conscious of water conservation."

Former councilman Harold Clifton, a member of a panel named Tuesday by Mayor Frank Barnhill to study alternative means of financing the new plant, said what surprised him about the new rate was the "lack of communication to the public."

"You can see how people are concerned about the rate," Clifton said referring to the more than 100 persons who packed council chambers and the hallway immediately outside. I doubt if council realized the impact the rate increase was going to have."

"We (the study panel) cannot come up with a miracle in two or three months," he said.

Kenneth Robbins, a former city solicitor who served as spokesman for many of the people, said that perhaps if people understood the new rate schedule and the reason for assessing it, they would feel differently about it. "From a standpoint of public relations I think you should teach the people in the water department the new formula so they could explain it," Robbins said.

He questioned Wright, Public Utilities Manager Charles Taylor and attorney Richard Penn who represents the public utilities board concerning means of financing construction.

One operator of a laundry stated he thought the new system was unfair to him because most of his water "went up in steam" and not to the city sewers.

John Jenkins, another former councilman in the gallery, said that when he was on council the sewage department always had plenty of money and he could not understand the need for the drastic rate increase. Jenkins also contended he was told by the late Roy Hawks, then manager of the sewer treatment plant, that the plant was adequate and the city did not need a new plant. He admitted this was "eight or nine years ago."

Everybody agreed the segment of the population hit the hardest by the increase was those on fixed incomes, especially retired persons.

Joe Smith, 227 Cedar Heights Road, asked if the findings of the panel would be considered. He was assured by Mayor Frank Barnhill that was the reason for appointing the study group.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market attempted to reverse a three-day string of declines and prices were mixed today as brokers said investors remained concerned about inflation and the government approach toward halting it.

The noon Dow-Jones average of 30 industrials was up 1.28 to 929.03. But declines held a 3-to-2 lead over advances in moderate trading on the New York Stock Exchange.

The broad-based NYSE index of some 1,400 common stocks was off .03 to 58.30.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price-change index had dropped .02 to 24.19 at noon.

Although inflation remains the prime concern of investors, said Monte Gordon of Dreyfus Corp., a bigger depressant is dissatisfaction with Washington's approach toward the problem.

Rain Swamps Georgia, Florida

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrential rains from severe thunderstorms swamped northern Florida and southern Georgia today as precipitation over most of the nation decreased.

Two feet of water covered some streets in Jacksonville, Fla., which received 5.07 inches of rain during a six-hour period Tuesday night for a total rainfall that day of 7.57 inches. Brunswick, Ga., was drenched by 2.33 inches, and Tallahassee, Fla., recorded nearly two inches.

Birds Find Sen. Aiken Easy Touch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Since Sen. George D. Aiken started feeding the Capitol's pigeons several years ago, they've gotten to know his schedule pretty well.

"They even look in the window to see when we're coming out," the 80-year-old dean of the Senate said. "As we come out the door, two or three come and then they're all there."

Aiken, R-Vt., lives in the Methodist Building, right across the Plaza from the Capitol. He feeds the birds every morning when he goes to his office, at about 6:45 a.m., and again on the way home at night.

"They love Spanish peanuts," he said. "One little hen likes to sit on my hand and ride."

He said the whole thing started about three or four years ago with a handful of birds. Now, 60 or 70 greet him twice each day.

"They even seem to know the time and the days of the week," he went on, explaining that a few of the birds are always outside his office on Sunday morning when he goes in to do a little work at about 10 a.m., three hours later than his weekday arrival time.

Nixon Victor In Veto Clash With Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the psychological edge of victory in the first big veto showdown of the year, President Nixon's congressional allies are charging into new spending-strategy battles over power and the purse.

Federal policies involving billions of dollars, covering House debate over rural America's electric power and a Senate fight over a spending ceiling and impoundments, were at issue in plans for congressional action today.

"A resounding victory for the American taxpayer" is the way Nixon, in a statement from the Western White House, described the Senate's vote on Tuesday sustaining his veto of a $2.6-billion bill for rehabilitating the handicapped.

Although the Senate mustered a 60-36 majority favoring an override of the veto, the vote was four short of the two-thirds majority needed. This authorization measure, setting a ceiling subject to later appropriations, was "excessive and unwise," Nixon said.

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., claiming Nixon's veto "slams the door in the face of handicapped Americans," denied the legislation was extravagant and said "Congress was not fiscally irresponsible in its approach to this legislation." Rep. John Brademas, D-Ind., chief House sponsor of the bill, said: "Clearly, what the President wants is a rubber-stamp Congress, going docilely along with everything he wants."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., called it "just a goddamned outrage, a national shame. I'm ashamed to be in the Congress. Mr. Nixon with his mandate has declared war on the maimed. It's a day of infamy for the White House."

But Nixon claimed the legislation would have "opened the dikes to a flood of irrational overspending bills." Now, he added, "because enough senators had enough courage to stand up against the big spenders in defense of the average American's pocketbook, the tide of this battle of the budget is running in the peoples' favor."

dershowers fell east of the Mississippi River, while fair skies prevailed in the western half of the nation.

Flagstaff, Ariz., got another inch of snow; more than 40 inches have fallen at Flagstaff since the weekend. Widely scattered snow lingered in the central Rockies.

The battle against the flooding Mississippi River continued as levees from St. Louis south became soggy. Some levees already have given way and others may, authorities said.

The U.S. Geological Survey said the Mississippi would reach a modern record crest of 40.5 feet by Saturday at St. Louis, breaking the 40.2-foot record set there in 1947 and 1951.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers estimated the flood has inundated more than one million acres of land in Missouri and Illinois and more than seven million in a seven-state region.

Deputies Search For Hit-Run Car

A Washington C.H. man was slightly injured 8:30 p.m. Tuesday when a partially identified car slammed into his vehicle and sped off on the Main St. entrance to Orient State Institution.

Donald D. Seyfang, 44, Route 5, Washington C.H., refused treatment for minor abrasions suffered when the hit-and-run car plowed into the left side of his car while it was stopped at the Route 762 intersection of Main St.

Witnesses said the car, a black Ford, was making a right turn from Route 762, went left of center, and hit Seyfang's auto.

The Missouri River at its confluence with the Mississippi was 10 miles wide.

Residents of West Alton, Mo., on a tongue of land between the two rivers, were evacuated several days ago. A Corps spokesman said about 3,500 persons were seriously affected from Hannibal, Mo., to Cairo, at the southern tip of Illinois.

Other rivers in the Mississippi Valley also were over their banks. Flooding of lowlands was common in the Missouri, Ohio, Tennessee and Cumberland valleys.

Impact sent Crews' car careening 186 feet left of center into a tree. The Hildebrand car skidded 198 feet off the right side of the road, came back across to the left 201 feet, skidded back to the right 69 feet and crashed into a ditch, tree and electric pole.

Watergate Defendants Face Questioning By Grand Jury

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Watergate defendants who chose to plead guilty rather than stand trial go before a federal grand jury today knowing the severity of their sentences depends on their cooperation with investigators.

U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica last month left open the final sentence for the four—all caught inside Democratic headquarters in a post-midnight foray—saying "should you speak freely, I would have to weigh that factor."

Bernard L. Barker, who admitted in court that he recruited the other three, was to be the first to testify before the jury probing the Watergate case, followed by Eugenio R. Martinez, Frank A. Sturgis and Virgilio R. Gonzalez.

Sirica showed his displeasure Tuesday with the refusal of G. Gordon Liddy to answer grand jury questions, adding up to 18 months to Liddy's prison term. Liddy invoked his right against self-incrimination at least 32 times in one of three sessions before the jury, even though he had been granted immunity from prosecution for anything he might say.

James W. McCord Jr., convicted with Liddy after a fourweek trial, also refused to answer some questions while giving a deposition in three civil suits growing out of the Watergate affair.

Sources said, however, that McCord agreed to answer all questions in the civil suits after he completes testimony before the grand jury. He is to testify Thursday. The government will seek immunity for him as it did for Liddy and E. Howard Hunt, the seventh Watergate conspirator.

Such immunity, however, does not extend to civil actions—but some of the lawyers in the case contend he will have waived his right to invoke the 5th Amendment by making statements to the Senate Watergate investigation committee.

McCord had been scheduled to return to the committee in closed session today with corroboration for some of his statements, but committee Chairman Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., called off the session. Instead, Ervin announced, public hearings will begin within two weeks.

Commissioners Accept Car Bid

Pickaway County Commissioners accepted a bid of $4,402.19 from Harden's Chevrolet for a 1973 station wagon to be used by the Community Relations officer of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Funds for the vehicle will come from a federal grant calling for the establishment of a community relations department within the county Sheriff's Department on a one year basis.

Only other bidder was the Rod Bell Ford Co., which submitted a bid of $4,462.36.

Fort Recovery Youth Killed In Accident

FORT RECOVERY, Ohio (AP)—Robert Reichert, age unknown, of Fort Recovery, was killed Tuesday night and two other youths injured in a one-car accident on Ohio 119 near the Indiana state line.

Mercer County sheriff's deputies said the car apparently failed to negotiate a curve and rolled over.

Chamber Committees State

Program Plans For 1973

Committee projects for 1973 were aired by Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce committee chairmen Tuesday at its April meeting.

A series of small clean-up programs were announced by Community Appearance chairman John Farthing. He explained that his group was also considering an award program to recognize businesses who were working to improve the community's appearance.

The committee announced that it would be assisted in its weekend clean-up campaigns by scout, youth and school groups, but that all businessmen and citizens were expected to help both in cleaning and maintaining a brighter look for the town.

It was also generally agreed that the Chamber should inquire about what the railroad is planning to do to improve the condition of crossings about the town, and urge them to immediate action.

The Agri-Business committee has set its goals to help sponsor the industrial exhibit at the county fair and to schedule a U-Drive-It tour this fall. The tour will be mapped out, featuring a number of scheduled stops at various agricultural operations in the county. Persons on the tour will be able to stop at any or all of these points, according to interest.

Roger Bennington, head of the Education committee, reported that additional planning would be needed to set up a 1973-74 program of consumer economics for Circleville seniors. The course was organized by the Circleville Board of Education and Chamber volunteers to help acquaint students with banking, buying, insurance, investments, etc.

The Chamber will discuss the possibility of setting up a monthly program at the schools, scheduling the appearance of doctors, lawyers, salesman and businessmen in other areas of interest as speakers.

Surveys and support of the hospital's expansion program and emergency room service, and backing for the emergency ambulance system for the county were recognized as programs of the Health Committee. Red Hartman advised that his committee will also offer the Pickaway County Medical Society support in its search to locate qualified physicians to serve this area.

At Hartman's invitation, Berger Hospital Administrator John Reid will attend the May 1 meeting of the Chamber.

Retail Merchants representative, Don Grandon advised that businesses had just completed a successful Back to Spring promotion. The merchants group is also campaigning to obtain better lighting for the downtown area.

Thursday Meeting Planned By Foster Parent Association

The Pickaway County Foster Parent Association will meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Trinity Lutheran Church, 135 E. Mound St.

All foster parents and interested persons are invited to attend the meeting, which will include a film presentation, "Deep Well".

A Page Of Opinion

Tyranny Of Things

Some wise man once spoke of "the tyranny of things." By this he meant that human beings are so greatly influenced by the material riches in life that they are actually dominated and ruled by that concern.

Many persons have a list — either on paper or mentally — of the things they plan to buy when they get the money. The whole economy is governed by this insatiable desire for acquisition. Almost daily it becomes easier to borrow from the future to buy today. One acquisition acts as a spur to others. The "List" gets longer and longer. No one ever quite catches up. There is a certain amount of immaturity in this.

No one denies the pleasure of possessions. But somewhere the question must occur to many individuals: "Aren't our wants outrunning our needs?" Certainly some persons have found that the very multiplicity of "things" about them creates a disorder, a dissatisfaction, an inability, as it were, to come to terms with what life is all about.

All men could undoubtedly benefit from a little quiet contemplation away from the "tyranny of things."

What's In The News?

Newspapers today devote much space to what are known as human interest stories.

The child who lost a hand. The marriage of so-and-so and so-and-so. Someone plans to row across an ocean in a bathtub. News of that sort.

There is a logical explanation. Newspaper editors have become surfeited with war and rumors of war, international intrigue, violations of the cease-fire and political manipulations at home and abroad.

Murder and crime and violence in the streets have become so commonplace they fail to arouse the old enthusiasm for sensation.

There are those who appear to believe newspapermen find satisfaction in happenings in a world that often appears to have gone crazy. It's a lie. They are, as a matter of fact, kindly souls who would prefer to print news about the wholesome aspects of life, instead of the dreary.

To a man, they hope for a return of more tranquil times.

Scared Rabbits?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

More and more the United States is coming to resemble a giant of Brobdingnagian proportions that is being successfully tied down by Lilliputian-sized people. We are told we must not drill for offshore oil for fear of polluting the waters. It takes five years of talk to get a permit to build an atomic energy plant. Fresh from his campaign to put seatbelts around automobile passengers (a laudable thing), Ralph Nader makes an unjustified quantum jump and tries to shackle the whole capitalist system as if it were just another Corvair car. We are scared, scared, scared — and the end is not in sight. The fear-mongers have taken over.

This psychology could become doubly dangerous now that Senator Ted Kennedy has succeeded in jamming something called the Office of Technological Assessment through Congress, with a mandate to study the "physical, biological, economic, social and political effects" of technology. The Wall Street Journal reports that Kennedy favors former Connecticut Congressman Emilio Q. Daddario for a $40,000-a-year job as first OTA director. Daddario is one of those fear-mongers; he was against developing a commercial SST plane despite the fact that military versions of the SST have been flying for a long time without polluting the stratosphere or breaking eardrums with a sonic boom.

This column is not against safety or ecological awareness, and it favors technological assessments. But when fear becomes the dominant strain in the national psychology we end by immobilizing ourselves. Instead of the "Star-Spangled Banner," we sing that old song that warns us to "button up your overcoat when the wind is free..." etc.

Last summer, Senator Henry Jackson of the State of Washington made a brave protest against letting the more extreme ecologists turn us into a nation of psychic invalids. At the time Jackson was a loner. But, at the very moment that Ted Kennedy proposes to bring the restrictionist ex-Congressman Daddario back from his Connecticut retirement to Washington to watch over technological change, another Connecticut politico, Senator Lowell Weicker, has joined Jackson in his crusade to restore some sense of adventurousness to the nation.

In a little-noticed speech at the Drug,

Chemical and Allied Trades Association meeting in New York in early March, Senator Weicker attacked the Food and Drug Administration for succumbing to demagogues who were intent on stopping all drug and chemical advance in the name of an impossible safety. Said Weicker, "I think the public has to be told in no uncertain terms that 100 per cent safety is attainable but only at the cost of zero per cent discovery and achievement."

If the 100 per cent safety criterion had been applied a generation ago, penicillin, which has side effects for some people, would never have come on the market. Nobody wants a repetition of the thalidomide birth-defect tragedy, but Dr. Francis A. Davis, the publisher of the magazine Private Practice, quotes Professor Sam Peltzman of the University of California at Los Angeles as saying the cost of a two-year delay of a beneficial innovation is something like "ten to one hundred times the value of avoiding a thalidomide-type mistake." Dr. Peltzman illustrates his argument by pointing out that if anti-tuberculosis drugs had not been used when they were discovered, a two-year postponement "would have meant about 45,000 additional deaths and 90,000 additional cases."

Senator Weicker's attack on the FDA for stopping medical progress in the name of an impossible perfectionism has been echoed in Europe, where the West German Pharmaceutical Industry Association has sponsored a report that accuses the FDA of doing such ridiculous things as ordering fertility tests on geriatric, or old-age, drugs. During the past decade West German drug manufacturers have introduced twice as many new medicines as the U.S. has managed to get past the FDA. American doctors, to make use of established European drugs, have sometimes had to smuggle them into this country.

Weicker will be blasted for his statement to the drug manufacturers that "we face a common nonsense that is becoming a very real threat." But when he told the drug manufacturers that America did not get to where it is "by playing defensive ball," and that we must once again become a "sunrise people," he deserved a great big hand.

Returnees Ate 4 Pounds Of Beef Each At Clark Base

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP) — The 594 American and allied prisoners of war who got checkups at Clark Air Base in the past two months ate an average of four pounds of beef apiece during the three or four days before they left for home.

A five-page statistical report issued today by the base hospital showed that the men's huge appetites for the American fare they'd been without so long forced immediate abandonment of plans to start them off on bland diets.

The POWs ate a total of 852 pounds of steak and 1,556 pounds of beef in other forms such as roasts and hamburgers. They ate 478 pounds of chicken, 253 pounds of duckling and 138 pounds of turkey.

The demand for banana splits was so great the hospital at one stage ran out of bananas. The POWs went through 210 gallons of ice cream and 359 pounds of bananas. They also had 444 gallons of milk, 152 pounds of frozen strawberries and 60 pounds of salt.

According to the list only one bottle of white wine and one bottle of red wine were called for.

There was no mention of beer or liquor, but reports said the POWs enjoyed having a drink again. On shopping expeditions in the base exchange many carried bottles of iced beer with them as they wandered through the departments.

According to the list, the POWs also: —Got $326,574.24 initial payments, accrued leave pay, advance pay and withdrawals from a savings deposit program.

—Spent about $145,000 in shopping at the base exchange.

—Placed 2,710 telephone calls to their families.

—Received 373 sets of eye glasses.

Fish are the oldest vertebrates.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Two months ago, I had a G.I. series. At that time I did not know I was pregnant.

Do you think I could have done harm to my baby? I am afraid to think about it, much less talk about it.

Mrs. L.M.N., Ind.

Dear Mrs. N.:

It is highly unlikely that a gastrointestinal X-ray series could have harmed you or your unborn child.

The concentration of X-ray exposure during such studies is not normally hazardous. Nevertheless, the doctor who is handling your pregnancy certainly should be told about this circumstance. It will give you great assurance to have further confirmation.

A number of hospital clinics and a great many private physicians are now doing routine pregnancy tests on all women in the childbearing age in an effort to find unsuspected pregnancies.

A simple two-minute test can be made on a patient's urine. If this superficial test is positive, a more definitive one can be made.

It is of extreme importance that unsuspected pregnancies be recognized. Only in this way can all drugs with even the slightest potential hazard be avoided. X-rays, too, would then be markedly limited to only the most essential cases.

I have been bothered with a hammer toe on one foot, and now am developing one on the other.

Do some people have a tendency to this condition?

I am only 27 years old.
Mr. J.L.G., Pa

Dear Mr. G.:

Hammer toe, sometimes called "claw" toe, is a deformity of the metatarsal joint. It is unusual for this to occur at an early age, but there is no "tendency" that one person might have toward this condition.

Badly fitting shoes can sometimes be responsible for hammer toe. It is reasonable to assume that if one shoe fits badly, the other will, too! This is the more likely reason for the trouble you are having with both feet.

Well-fitting, specially designed "space" shoes may be helpful in taking pressure off the metatarsal joint.

When pain becomes incapacitating, surgery can be performed safely, with very gratifying results.

In older people, arthritis and some neurological disorders may be responsible for this distortion of the joints of the feet.

When a food allergy is suspected, is there a special way to find the offender without skin tests?

Miss G.G., Mich.

Dear Miss G.:

There are a number of diets which, by the process of elimination, may pinpoint the offending substance.

It is known that shellfish, nuts, eggs, melon, chocolate, citrus fruits are high on the list of trouble makers.

Eliminating one group of foods at a time — like beef, pork, lamb, fowl, etc. — may help in this detective process.

All elimination techniques should be under the direction of your own doctor. Special elimination diets are available.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a newspaper columnist gets tired of hearing:

"What else do you do for a living besides write a column?"

"Can you help me get a couple of passes to the hockey game?"

"I'm much too busy myself to read what you write, but my wife says that now and then she likes your stuff."

"I already have trouble enough justifying your salary to the business department. If you want a new swivel chair, you'd better buy it yourself."

"Where do you get most of your ideas, anyway — at clearance sales?"

"Do you call Nixon or does he call you?"

"I suppose whenever they get a big grocery ad, you get thrown out of the paper. Right?"

"I guess with a name like yours — C. Bascom Prunewhip — there isn't much else you could do but write a column. But I think you're a long way from making it a household word."

"Hey, Bascom, look intelligent — the boss is on his way in."

"What makes you such an authority on everything? You never met an payroll in your life."

"When you go to lunch, do you ever pick up your own check?"

"Why do you guys always feel you have to find fault with something? If you were running it, the world would be in an even bigger mess."

"I read your column last night. What were you trying to say?"

"Yes, that's our famous columnist over there — the guy trying to cadge a cigarette from the janitor. The janitor is the one in the clean shirt."

"It's much easier to understand Bascom's column if you simply hum 'Onward, Christian Soldiers' while you read it."

"I used to write a column for our high school newspaper. It isn't easy, is it?"

Canada Meat Boycott On

TORONTO (AP) — A boycott of meat is under way in Canada and cattleman Bill Wolf says already it is costing him money.

The boycott sponsored by a group called Women Against Soaring Prices began Saturday.

Wolf said Monday he telephoned Margaret Rouble, chairman of the group, to say the boycott may drive farmers out of business and send meat prices skyrocketing.

"Since the boycott talks began the market price of beef has dropped two cents a pound," he said. "On my 300 head, that means $6,000."

But Mrs. Rouble said her group still plans on boycotting stores all this week and every Tuesday and Thursday until prices drop.

Farmers kept their cattle away from market Monday on a scale not seen in Ontario in more than 30 years.

Argentina is 1,072,700 square miles in area.

Members of three organizations will receive awards from the Kingston Civic Club when it meets Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Larry Street. They are the Kingston-Greene Township Volunteer Fire Department, Kingston American Legion Post 291 and the Kingston Area Improvement Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Search of Columbus were Sunday afternoon callers of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Search Sr. They drove to Tucson to see Mrs. Blanche Stanhope, sister of Mr. Search Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul McDonald visited his father, Mr. Wayne McDonald at his home in Huntington, W. Va., Sunday.

The Zane Trace High School band, choir and Boys' Glee Club participated in the District 14 Ohio Music Education Association competition last Saturday at Wilmington where the choir got a "superior" rating enabling them to go on to the State Contest on April 14.

The Glee Club will also compete at state level, having received a "superior" rating for the seventh year in a row and five of the seven state contests won "superior" ratings. The band will not go to the state contest since they got an "excellent" for performance and "superior" for sight-reading.

Bill Widens Watercraft Authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill giving the state authority to police boating has been prepared for introduction into the Ohio Senate.

The measure, sponsored by Sen. Donald L. Woodland, D-16 Columbus, with administration backing, would give state watercraft officers authority to enforce all watercraft laws.

The Division of Watercraft is within the Department of Natural Resources. The bill would increase the rule-making power of the chief of the division.

Under the bill, watercraft officers would be authorized to take or order violator to appear before a court or magistrate.

Although the state's watercraft officers have been active in watercraft educational program, they have no authority to enforce watercraft regulations.

The bill would also provide for boating education programs within the division.

Woodland noted that six persons have died in Columbus in the past two weeks from boating accidents.

"Each year, more and more boaters take to the waterways, and boating accidents occur with greater frequency," he said.

Neff Not Forced From State Post?

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — R. Wilson Neff, Ohio's departing public works director, said politics didn't squeeze him out of state government. He leaves May 1, he said, by personal choice.

Neff, whose responsibilities stretch from cutting the Statehouse lawn to insuring equal employment opportunities on state construction jobs, said he is stepping down because it will be the "appropriate time to make the break."

The 53-year-old public works director is the only appointed cabinet official who serves one-year terms. Other cabinet members serve simply at the pleasure of the governor.

Neff's second term as director expires May 1. He said he will not continue in the position because of a personal family situation.

Gov. John J. Gilligan announced Neff's retirement when he unveiled a proposal to combine the Departments of Public Works, Personnel and Finance into one agency called the Department of Administrative Services.

The new department, Gilligan said, will save money and produce "better management of the housekeeping functions of state government." The proposal must be approved by the Ohio General Assembly.

Neff offered guarded reactions about the governor's proposal. "It's a beginning, let us say," he remarked. He declined further comment. "I wouldn't want to prejudice what the governor is trying to do," he said. "I wouldn't want to take any position on the merger."

"I think this is one of the things the

No Repayment Of Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The families of five POWs once listed as dead will not have to repay insurance settlements of $10,000 each that they received on the lives of the servicemen.

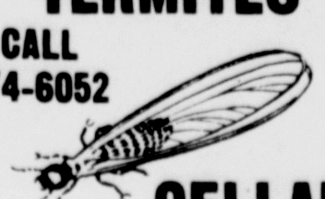

The Veterans Administration said Monday that it and the insurance companies that made the payments had decided not to attempt to recover the money paid to wives or parents of the men.

Thomas Kiernan, VA director of insurance service, said most of the recipients probably had spent the money.

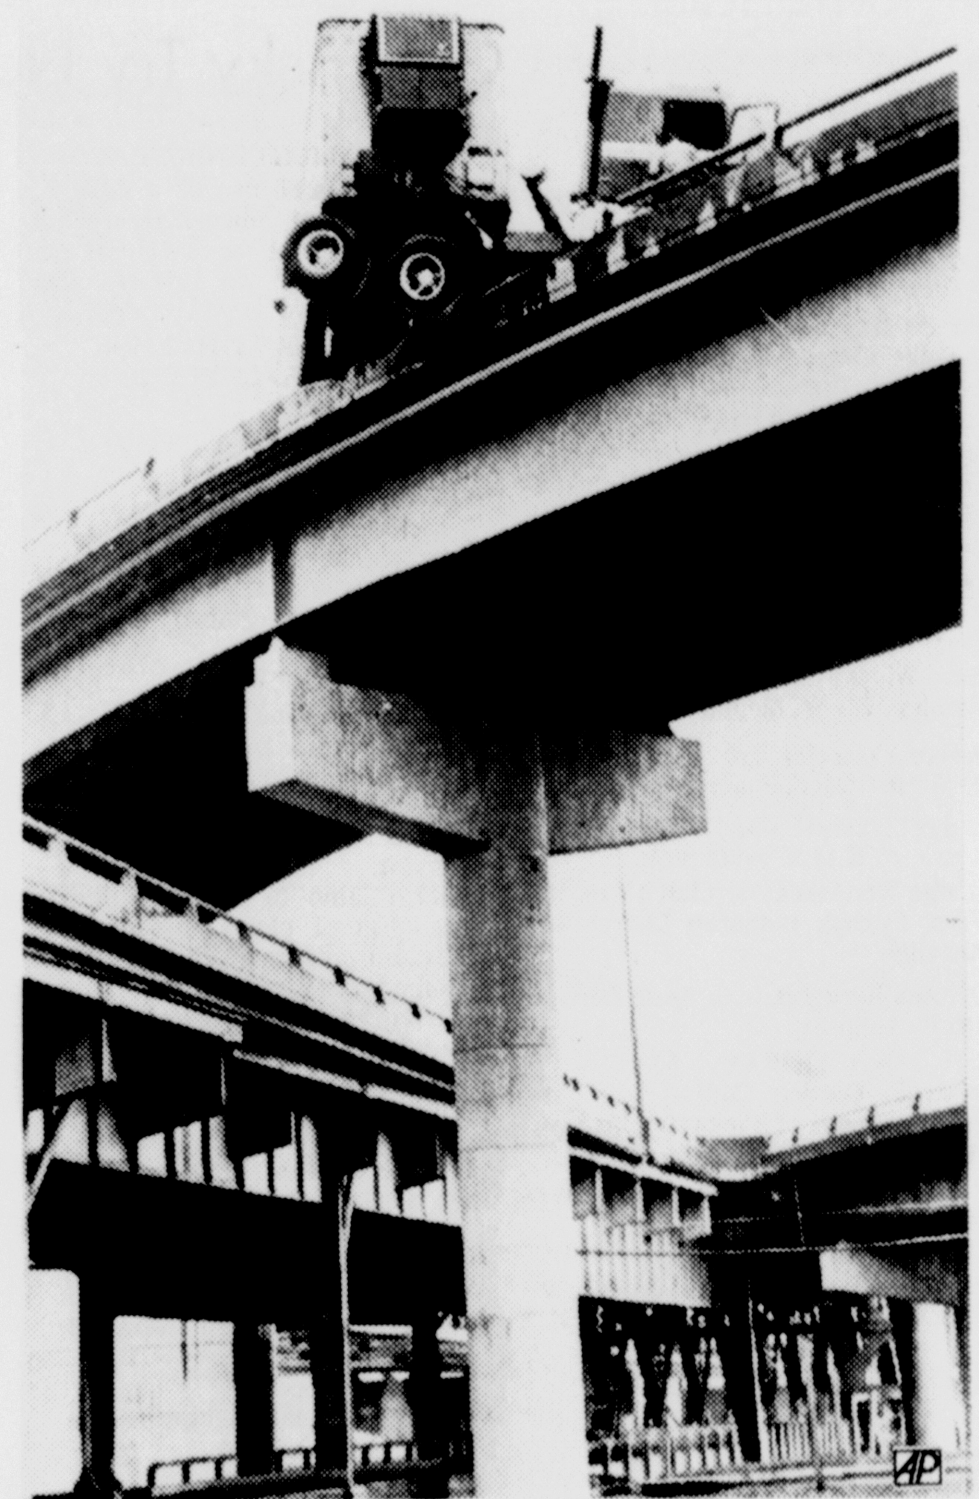

governor has a right to determine," Neff, who has spent 30 years in public service and was previously executive secretary of the Lorain Port Authority, said, "The governor indicated no dissatisfaction with my work."

"I could have probably stayed on in the new department, but it was the appropriate time to make the break in terms of time and flexibility."

UNUSUAL BACKGROUNDS — Mrs. Emmett Barnhart is shown with some of the backgrounds she created and displayed for the recent meeting of Gardenwood Club.

Mrs. Emmett Barnhart Gardenwood Club Speaker

"Creative Backgrounds" was the subject used by Mrs. Emmett Barnhart as guest speaker for the March meeting of Gardenwood Club at Pickaway County Historical Society's meeting room.

Mrs. Marcus Lackey presided at the business meeting attended by 19 members and six guests: Mrs. Marguerite Huston, Mrs. William Geddis, Mrs. Tom Beckley, Mrs. Nickolas Apostolakis, Mrs. Calvin Danford and Mrs. James Marshall.

Mrs. Robert Scherer distributed schedules for the flower show on April 17th in the home of Mrs. William Myers. She announced two workshops to be held April 3rd and 9th.

Mrs. Paul Sarchet, Mrs. Charles

Brackett and Mrs. Roger Bennington will serve on the nominating committee to present the slate of officers at the May meeting.

Mrs. Barnhart used 23 artistic creations in her program. Her interpretation was everyday living such as darkness, sunsets, rainbows, fire, astronauts, view outside a window, Japanese garden, The Resurrection and Star Spangled Banner. Each theme was developed using black light, exotic flowers, posters and other unusual materials.

Mrs. Barnhart stressed using the imagination to create original effects from inexpensive supplies.

Co-hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Marcus Lackey, Mrs. Charles Lilgendahl and Mrs. Tom Churchill.

Robert Mabes, Pharmacist Speaks To Nurses Assn.

The monthly meeting of Pickaway County Registered Nurses Assn. was held recently at Pickaway Manor with 17 members attending.

Guest speaker was Robert Mabes, pharmacist at Berger Hospital. He gave an interesting and comprehensive explanation of new drugs and their uses. He said that there are not as many new drugs on the market this past year as in former years. This is due to strict government requirements and less money allocated for research.

Many new drugs are the derivation of old formulas. The purchase price of some drugs has been drastically reduced during the past two years in some instances. Mr. Mabes named specifically some antibiotics on which the patents have expired. This creates a competitive market among the pharmaceutical houses and the result is the reduction of cost to the consumer.

At the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Arthur Bowman, president, plans were completed for a bake sale to be held on April 21st. The proceeds are to be added to the Nurses Scholarship Fund. A more detailed account of the need for more registered nurses to participate in Public Health Nursing was explained by Mrs. Charles Kirkpatrick. Nurses were asked to offer their services as many hours as possible. This is not on a voluntary basis since funds are allocated for this service by the government.

Mrs. Paul Berrigan assisted by Mrs. Orville Hukill served refreshments following the meeting.

SUE MILBURN AND CHERYL NEFF

Get Frisky Try New Lamb Dish

By ALICE DENHOFF

A rack of lamb can be a thing of beauty as well as delicious fare. Want something special for a special occasion? Then go no further. Just prepare and serve up with an air:

LAMB RACK WITH LEMON AND PURPLE PLUMS

- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 1 rack of lamb (3 pounds)
- 1 lemon, sliced
- 1 can (1 pound, 14 ounces) purple plums, drained
- 6 whole cloves
- Dash aromatic bitters

Combine salt and spices; mix well. Sprinkle spice mixture over lamb.

Place lamb on rack in roasting pan. Roast at 325F, for 1 hour. Remove lamb from roasting pan and drain off excess fat.

Return lamb to pan; add lemon slices, drained plums, 1 cup syrup from plums, cloves and bitters. Roast 30 minutes longer or until thermometer registers 170 degrees for well done.

Serve lamb with plum and lemon garnish. That's doing right by our grand American lamb, isn't it?

Lamb chops are always a treat but when specially prepared the pleasure is doubled. So to give lamb chops a party air, here is a new idea:

LAMB CHOPS AND ASPARAGUS WITH MINTED HOLLANDAISE

- 5 egg yolks
- Salt and pepper
- 2½ tablespoons lemon juice
- 1¼ cups butter, melted
- 1 tablespoon mint leaves
- 8 loin lamb chops cut ¾ inch thick
- 2 tablespoons butter
- Cooked asparagus spears

Place egg yolks, ½ teaspoon salt, dash pepper and lemon juice in electric blender; whirl until blended. Slowly add 1¼ cups hot melted butter with blender at high speed. Add mint leaves and puree just until small specks of green are still visible. Keep sauce warm in top of double boiler over hot (not boiling) water while preparing chops.

Saute chops in large skillet over medium heat about 6 minutes per side, or until desired degree of doneness. Sprinkle chops with salt and pepper after turning. Place chops on warm serving platter with cooked asparagus. Pour some hollandaise over chops and serve remainder in dish. Serves 4.

If there is some lamb left from a leg of lamb, have a second treat with:

SHERRIED LAMB IN PATTY SHELLS

- 2 cups diced cooked lamb
- 2 tablespoons diced canned pimiento
- 2 tablespoons dry sherry
- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen patty shells
- ¼ cup sliced scallions
- ¼ cup sliced mushrooms
- ¼ cup butter
- ¼ cup flour
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ¼ teaspoon rosemary leaves
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¾ cup milk
- 1 cup light cream

Saute scallions and mushrooms in butter until tender. Stir in flour, salt, rosemary and pepper. Gradually add milk and cream; cook, stirring constantly, until sauce is thickened and bubbly.

Add lamb, pimiento and sherry; mix and heat thoroughly. Spoon into hot patty shells that have been prepared according to package directions.

Girl Scout Troops

Participate In

Balloon Project

It was up, up and away with colorful helium filled balloons from all parts of the Seal of Ohio Girl Scout Council on a recent Saturday afternoon.

The Senior Troop in each area was in charge on contacting the troops to learn how many girls wished to participate. This was done as a Thinking Day project, a day when Girl Scouts think seriously of sister Scouts and Girl Guides around the world.

There were 180 Girl Scouts, their leaders, some parents and friends at Ted Lewis Park where the balloons were released. Each girl filled out a card with her address and name hoping that wherever it came back to earth someone would find it and write to her.

Troops taking part were Brownie Troops 9, 928, 931, 942 and 1116; Junior Troops 89, 117 and 1051; Junior Cadette Troop 222; Cadette Troops 1132 and 1176, and Senior Troop 425.

Cards have been received by troop 928 from Albany, Ohio; Troop 942, Shelby Mowery from Kingston; Troop 1116, Melissa Fox from Pomeroy and Drema Evans from Kingston; Troop 117, Susie Brown, from High St. in Circleville; Troop 1051, Lois Cole, from Columbus and Troop 1132, Betsy Hamrick from a city north of Columbus.

In Huffer Home

Mrs. Curtis Adams presided over the business meeting. Visitation chairman, Mrs. Ralph Mets, reported that the visitation program is going well and a schedule has been made for those wishing to participate.

Mrs. Adams closed the meeting with prayer and refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Gary McCain, to the 10 members present.

The May meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Mets, 430 Ray Ave. Mrs. Dan Parks will be co-hostess and Mrs. Dave Huffer will lead devotions.

FBI Said Peeping Tom For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Les Aspin says a 1971 FBI memorandum to Oregon agents shows the Nixon administration has been "using the FBI as a political Peeping Tom and gossip columnist since it took office."

The memorandum from the Portland, Ore., FBI field office, dated Jan. 21, 1971, was released by Aspin, a Wisconsin Democrat, on Monday.

Six categories of information were to be forwarded to the administration, the memorandum said, including "items with an unusual twist or concerning prominent personalities which may be of special interest to the President or the attorney general."

The FBI issued no formal answer, but a spokesman said, "We wouldn't report to the President or the attorney general matters of a strictly political nature."

The memorandum says collection of data for an "FBI intelligence letter for the President" was initiated by the bureau in 1969 and was code named "inlet."

Agents were instructed to forward data of sufficient importance "to secure the President's interest and to provide him with meaningful intelligence for his guidance."

Aspin says he is confident President Nixon would not have ordered such use of the FBI but said he also was certain the agency would not have started the program on its own.

Taft With Majority On Crime Amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, voted with the majority Tuesday as the Senate defeated a motion to table and thus kill a crime bill amendment to provide mandatory minimum sentences for non-addict drug pushers and for those who use or carry a gun in a federal crime.

Ohio's other senator, William Saxbe, also a Republican, was not recorded as voting.

In looking back over all the challenges and trials of my experience as a POW, I believe the spiritual sustenance attained through others' prayers, and my own, was the most important factor in my survival.

I believe most POWs feel the same way. Almost all of us are at peace with ourselves now. From what I observed of the performance of others, I believe the main lesson to be learned is that human nature is capable of remarkable performance when placed under duress.

There was a time in October 1966, while I was at the Zoo (a POW camp) in torture, when I just turned myself over to God and I have never had a prayer answered so spectacularly in my life.

A persuasive but sinister officer had put pressure on me to stop inciting the others. He finally gave up on the soft approach and had me put in a torture rig for five days. It was very painful. He wanted me to write something about the communications system between the prisoners in the camp.

At the end of five days I wrote something harmless about communications which I knew wouldn't give away anything they already didn't know. I hoped they would accept it because they would have saved face by getting me to write just something. But they didn't buy it.

They put me back in the same rig for five more days and that was the time at which I simply told God He would

Dayton State Land For Sale

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Controlling Board Monday approved release of $160,000 to be used for a study of what to do with 680 acres of Dayton State Hospital farmland that is up for sale.

The money would be returned to the state once the sale is completed, a Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation spokesman said. The land is expected to bring $7,000 to $20,000 an acre.

Rep. Frederick N. Young, R-38 Dayton, emphasized that sale of the urban farmland in Kettering is not part of the current controversy to sell off similar land throughout the state.

Gilligan Schedules Governors' Caucus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. John Gilligan said Tuesday tentative plans have been made for Ohio to host the Democratic Governors' Caucus at Sawmill Creek Lodge near Huron April 29-30.

The chief executives want to confer before the National Governors' Conference meets June 3-6 at Lake Tahoe, Nev.

when they beat the hell out of me and tightened up right to the maximum, I was just as comfortable as if I were sitting in a plush auto.

Despite all the torture and mistreatment we received as prisoners of war, I would not now personally oppose reconstruction aid to North Vietnam, as I understand it is envisioned by the president.

I think that such aid would be world-recognized as an act taken in the interests of peace, containing some element of Christian forgiveness.

The act should not be interpreted as excusing or condoning in any way either the aggression against South Vietnam or the mistreatment they applied to us.

I'm just as much in favor of bombing the hell out of them if they start misbehaving. For example, if the present moves of the DRV (Democratic Republic of Vietnam) portend further aggression against South Vietnam, I would favor most positive military action to oppose it.

And I regret that we did not use more shock in the initial application of military force during the war.

By escalating slowly as we did, we simply conditioned the North Vietnamese rather than shocking them with the full import of our resolve and the fullness of belief in our cause.

I believe they value quite highly the aid they might get from the United States, which could remove the stimulus that the DRV government may feel to grab aggressively for some necessities.

If they didn't have that necessity, I doubt that, even with the tight security situation, the people would support a DRV government effort to rouse the people to more bloodletting, especially with U.S. resolve finally having been demonstrated.

Westfall's National Honor Society Inducts 20 Members

Twenty new members were inducted into the Westfall Chapter of the National Honor Society during the annual tapping service held March 29. The high school auditorium was the setting for the ceremony, conducted by the 12 NHS members. Karen Fausnaugh gave the invocation. Chuck Adams, president, read the history of the National Honor Society.

Debbie Krahn lighted the torch and presided during the ceremony in which requirement speeches for membership were read. Character, scholarship, leadership and service were explained by Wendy Neff, Jane Covault, Cindy Beatty and Steve Johnson. Ruth Ann Rogers gave the method of selecting new members. New members tapped were:

Juniors — Darlene Barney, Carol Clem, Becki Easterday, Rae Fenstermaker, Wyatt Fraas, Susan Hillman, Debbie Hulse, Rick Metzger, David Shannon and Dianna Strittmatter. Seniors — Melanie Bliss, Linda Conrad, Virginia Hamrick, Beverly McDill, Rosemarie Mosley, Sally Norris, Diane Snyder, Debbie Wilkey Ward, Cora Whitesed, Pam Williams.

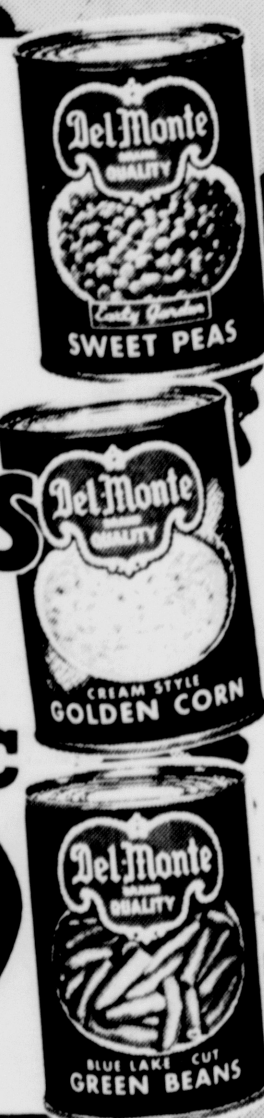

Music was provided by a girls' and boys' ensemble and Rosemarie Mosley. A brunch was held in the home economics department for the new and old members, their parents and guests, after the service. To be eligible for nomination into the Pickaway County National Honor Society, juniors must have a 3.25 average and seniors must have a 3.00 average out of a possible 4.0. After this year both juniors and seniors must maintain grades of 3.25 or better. Only 10 per cent of the Junior Class and 15 per cent of the Senior Class may be selected for membership by a committee of faculty members on the basis of scholarship, leadership, service and character. Final approval of all nominations is given by the county's general committee.

Adviser for the Westfall National Honor Society is Mrs. Jane Vance. Minnesota, California and North Carolina are the leading U.S. producers of turkeys.

One of the first forts built on Navajo lands was Ft. Defiance in the northeast of what is now Arizona.

Court Martial Begins Today At WPAFB Site

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Pending an 11th-hour injunction from Associate U.S. Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart, the court martial of 1st Lt. Bruce Ashley was to begin Wednesday morning at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near here.

Ashley, a 26-year-old physician from Louisville, Ky., is charged with two counts of willful failure to obey legal orders. He is assigned to the medical center at the base.

The Air Force charges stem from Ashley's refusal to participate in a military drug abuse testing program which he contended at the time violated the privacy of personnel to be tested.

He also refused his assigned duties in December, the Air Force claims. He said his refusal was a protest of renewed U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Throughout the vast North American expanses of the Sonora, Chihuahua, Mojave and Great Basin deserts, plants and animals will go to any lengths to find water.

Saxbe And Taft Vote To Uphold Nixon Veto

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Republican Sens. William Saxbe and Robert Taft Jr. both voted against overriding President Nixon's veto of a $2.6 billion vocational rehabilitation bill Tuesday as the effort failed to get the required two-thirds majority.

The vote was 60-36 for overriding.

Muskie Attacks Nixon's Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, giving the Democrats' response to President Nixon's Thursday night television address, says Congress fears the implications of what he called the President's "one-man rule."

"The President has asked for a free hand—a blank check—so that he can decide, and decide alone," the issues of ending the war, national spending priorities and halting inflation," Muskie said Monday night.

"We in the Congress fear, as all Americans fear, the threat of one-man rule," he said, and "distrust any president who would suggest that only he knows what is best for America."

QUIET WORKMAN — In this 40,000 cubic foot chamber 99 per cent silence is achieved in St. Paul, Minn. laboratory of 3M Company. Joseph Weinig, researchist, is testing stethoscope design.

New State Services Agency Makes Sense, Director Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Joseph J. Sommer said creation of a new state Department of Administrative Services makes sense from a business point of view—because it will save money.

Sommer, the director-designate of the new agency, said Monday, "We will be consolidating the services of three departments to produce a substantial savings."

The departments of Public Works, Finance and Personnel will form the nucleus of the new department, which has been proposed by the Gilligan administration to the 110th General Assembly.

The combined proposed budget for the three departments is $67 million for the next biennium, starting July 1, he said.

"It is hoped that through establishment of the new department we can reduce the budget figure," he said.

But, he added, "I am not ready to say what that savings will be. The amount is pretty much a matter of conjecture at this point."

Sommer, former administrator of the Ohio Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, was sworn in Monday by Gov. John Gilligan as interim director of the Department of Personnel until the new department is created.

Anthony Stringer of Cleveland, took the oath as the new bureau administrator.

The appointments of Sommer and Stringer will be voted on by the Senate.

The Department of Administrative Service's responsibilities will include hiring employees, implementation of equal employment opportunities, handling state printing and purchasing, renting office space for state departments, taking care of state-owned buildings and operating the state's central computer system.

"The new agency is not a political thing, so it should be accepted enthusiastically by the legislature," said the 45-year-old Sommer.

The bill creating the new agency has been introduced in the Senate and is presently being reviewed in committee.

"We would like to have the proposal passed and ready for implementation by July 1, the start of the new biennium," Sommer said.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Party Just Another TV Show To The Boys

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just returned from an anniversary party given by a charming and interesting couple who live nearby. They had canapes, dips and drinks plus a lovely buffet supper.

As the guests arrived, they greeted the anniversary couple, filled their trays, and then the men disappeared into the den to watch a ball game on TV. They paid no attention to the women (or to the host and hostess for that matter) and broke away from the TV only long enough to refill their glasses.

I wonder if this is the social pattern we may expect in the future? Of course family dinners on the Big Game days like Thanksgiving and New Year's are suffering more than parties. How do you feel about it?

GRANBY, CONN.

DEAR GRANBY: The ideal host and hostess permit their guests to do what they want to do. If the men gravitate toward TV, let them. But I wouldn't knock myself out preparing an elaborate dinner for them. I'd serve the TV crowd beer, pretzels, and frozen TV dinners.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how much longer these girls will wear their hair long and straight as a horse's tail?

The other afternoon we went to a friend's home for a barbecue where the daughters served the food. It was a bright sunny day and I could see HAIR shining in the food. I assure you, I didn't eat a thing.

RATHER STARVED IN FLORIDA

DEAR RATHER: You should have eaten. It's what you CAN'T see that's risky.

DEAR ABBY: This is in response to "Lonely Guy"—the 19-year-old who couldn't get a girl friend. I would like to tell this fellow what YOU told me when I wrote to you with the same problem eight years ago when I was his age.

"Take a good, long hard long look at yourself and take inventory. Find out who you are, and get to like that person because you'll never be anybody else. If you have hangups, get professional counseling. Smile, and hold your head high. And get to know the Lord. He does wonders. Good Luck!

Abby, it's people like you, reaching out to help others who make this a better world to live in. God bless you and keep you well.

NOT LONELY ANYMORE

DEAR NOT: And it's letters like yours that make my day. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 35-year-old unmarried woman, living at home with my parents. They are semi-invalids and depend on me to keep house for them. I also work away from home from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. so you know I have plenty to do.

I don't get many (really, I don't get ANY) invitations to date, but I am not lonely and I'm not complaining. My problem is that I am considered a convenient free baby sitter for the entire family.

I have three sisters and two brothers, all married with children. When they need a sitter they make it "easy" for me and bring the children to me. When the kiddies were infants, I enjoyed them, but now they are wild and hard-to-handle, and they wear me out.

Their parents no longer ask me, they call and say: "We are dropping the kids off tonight because we know you have no plans."

I've been such a good sport for so long, how can I suddenly say, "I would just like to relax and do nothing tonight?"

DEAD TIRED

DEAR TIRED: You've already come up with the right combination of words, now all you need is the courage to say them. Practice in front of a mirror, and deliver them loudly and clearly at the first opportunity. It gets easier with time.)

Problems. You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Small Groceries Have No Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council said today small grocery stores with annual sales or revenue of less than $100,000 are exempt from the meat price ceilings announced last week by President Nixon.

A spokesman for the council acknowledged that the original announcement of the ceiling regulations might have been misleading on this point, as the exemption was not made clear.

However, the spokesman said, the ceiling still will cover most neighborhood groceries, as well as supermarkets. The spokesman said all but the very smallest groceries have sales or revenue exceeding $100,000.

Import Wine Dealer Fights 'False' Label

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—A Cleveland wine importer has filed suit in U. S. District Court here to stop the flow of what he contends is an imitation of Lambrusco, a popular Italian wine.

Vito Vento seeks to halt the sale of Labrusca, bottled in New York, which he says sells for about a dollar less than the $2.39 for four-fifths of a quart of Lambrusco.

His complaint says Gold Seal Vineyards, Inc., of Hammondsport, N. Y., is unlawfully trying to "pass off" its product "on the popularity and good will" created by genuine Lambrusco.

He charges that Gold Seal has cornered some of the market by misleading and confusing buyers.

Vento asks in his suit that the name Labrusca be eliminated from the market, that the use of that or any similar name be barred and that all bottles be recalled.

James W. Opelt, a spokesman for Gold Seal, said the company has manufactured wines made from the Labrusca grape family for years but only recently decided to market a product under the grape family name.

He said both the name and label were approved by state and federal authorities.

ANOTHER BOGGS VICTORY — Mrs. Hale Boggs, who helped her husband get elected to the U.S. House of Representatives for 28 years, won a special election to succeed him in office. Mrs. Boggs, right, celebrates victory with her daughter, Mrs. Barbara Sigmund of Princeton, N. J., after the election at New Orleans, La. United Asks Emergency Phone Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An emergency rate increase of $9.4 million was requested Tuesday by United Telephone Co. of Ohio. Firm officials said without it, 330,000 subscribers would lose about $4 million.

The emergency request was made Tuesday at a hearing before the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio, while a $17 million increase asked earlier remained pending.

If approved, the emergency increase would hike monthly telephone rates in 52 Ohio counties an average of $2.50. United single family residence telephone service now ranges from $7.20 to $8 per month.

R. D. Askins, company rate and revenue director, told the PUCO hearing United needs the emergency increase to cover interest on $30 million worth of bond. If the emergency hike isn't granted, he said, the firm would lose its bond rating and the subsequent higher costs in the money market would be passed on to subscribers. The loss of the immediate increase would eventually cost United customers $4 million in the next 20 years.

A decision on the emergency rate hike request was not expected for several weeks.

Persons protesting the proposed emergency increase crowded the PUCO hearing room today. Seven persons, including an attorney representing 20 municipalities served by United, spoke against the rate hike request. They contended the increase isn't necessary and that the company has provided poor telephone service.

Companies Fined For Pollution

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Department of Natural Resources Monday said the Union Oil Company of Tallmadge and the Frigidaire Division of General Motors of Dayton have been fined for polluting state streams.

Union Oil was fined $100 for disposing of oil into a tributary of the Little Cuyahoga River. However, the judge in Cuyahoga Falls Municipal Court suspended the fine on the condition the company clean up the stream by June 1.

In Dayton Municipal Court Frigidaire was fined $25 for discharging oil into the Mad River. The company had already cleaned up the pollution.

Need More Cash For Fair Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four million dollars earmarked from Ohio's federal revenuesharing funds will not cover new building and renovation costs at the Ohio State Fair, a fair commission member said Monday.

Commission Secretary Eugene W. Schmidt of Canton told fair board members at least $20 million is needed to build a new horse and swine barn, and to correct wiring problems in standing buildings.

Board members also agreed Monday to accept bids for demolishing the century-old Columbus Building. An architect's report labeled the building "unsafe as a place of public assembly."

Tigers, Indians Battle To Scoreless Deadlock

HIT — Circleville's Dave Truex connects for one of the few hits in Tuesday's game with Hillsboro. It was to no avail as the Tiger shortstop was left stranded on second base in the inning. Perry Hoskins of Circleville and Rocky Day of Hillsboro hooked up in a fine pitching performance that ended in a scoreless deadlock after eight innings of play.

Superstick Answer To Golf Prayers

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Donald D. Moore of Akron has invented an adjustable golf club he says is all a golfer needs to play from tee through green.

And Moore, who said the key problem was getting the weight down, believes it will help the average amateur play better.

"It should reduce the number of strokes because the individual should be able to master one grooved swing," he said.

Its head can be changed through 17 positions, from putter and No. 1 iron through what he calls a "monster wedge." The shaft telescopes from 24 inches closed to 38 extended in the men's version. The women's club is two inches shorter.

Moore's club isn't the first to be adjustable—one came as early as 1908, he said. But he has been sure enough his version will succeed that he has sold his dry cleaning chain so he could concentrate on the club.

He named it Superstick. He began work on it three years ago. Now he has set up a plant in Akron to assemble the club, and he has named his business Highlander Products. He said a major national golf accessory manufacturer will handle national marketing.

Moore said improved play should come as a result of using a club whose length, head, grip and feel stay the same.

Leonard, Unser, Andretti To Be Major Racing Threat

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "We're gonna be tough, I guarantee you that," grins Parnelli Jones as his "super team" of defending USAC champion Joe Leonard and former Indianapolis 500 winners Al Unser and Mario Andretti prepares for the new season with cars that are already easily passing 200 miles an hour.

Jones, who runs the team with his partner Vel Miletich, said, "These cars are quite a bit faster than last year."

Andretti, who blasted Texas World Speedway in his Viceroy Special at an unofficial record 211.76 miles an hour, was quick to agree.

"Right out of the box they showed

Leonard, Unser, Andretti To Be Major Racing Threat

more potential than last year's did at the end of the season," said Andretti who led a fistful of USAC races winding up last year but still went without a victory.

"We're all a lot more confident this year," said Maurice Phillippe, designer of the Parnelli racing cars.

Last season the team won four USAC championship races with Leonard capturing his second straight driving title along with three race victories.

But Phillippe, who designed Formula I and other racing machines for Lotus before joining Jones, conceded although his cars wound up doing well at the end of last year after some early problems "they were more suited to circuit (road course) racing than the oval."

The 1973 car features a shovel-nose nose and is lower than the 1972 racer.

Andretti said it was "just hard to figure" the string of front-running efforts that failed to produce a victory last season, along with his lack of a USAC oval course win since 1969.

"It's all tough to explain. Looking back there's nothing we'd do differently."

The Italian-born Andretti wouldn't call it a slump or bad luck.

"It just seems like a cycle, up and down, and it's bound to come out some time."

Mustangs Drop Tilt To Blue Lions

The Washington C.H. Blue Lions tagged two Westfall pitchers for seven hits and 11 runs as they handed the Mustangs their first baseball loss of the year 11-6.

Ted Musselman started on the mound for Westfall and exited in the fourth inning after giving up six runs on three hits and four walks. He fanned three. Rick Shannon finished for the Mustangs, allowing five runs on four hits and striking out one batter while walking none.

Dumford started for the Blue Lions and was relieved in the sixth inning by Bick. All six Mustang runs were earned off Dumford, who also allowed all five hits. He fanned 11 and walked one. Bick's only statistic was one strike out.

Musselman banged a double for the Mustangs and Larry Adams, Jim Dawson, Gary Thompson and Shannon hit singles.

Next game for Westfall is Friday at Paint Valley.

Designated Hitter Rule Faces Big Test

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the only things the initials DH stood for last year were Dave Hamilton, a pitcher for the Oakland A's, and Doug Howard, an infielder-outfielder who got a September shot with the California Angels.

This year, though there are a lot of DH's around, some of whose real initials are TO (Tony Oliva), OC (Orlando Cepeda), GB (Gates Brown), FH (Frank Howard) and RC (Rico Carty).

DH really stands for designated hitter and it will be the object of much study, much discussion and, hopefully, much attendance when the American League baseball season opens Friday.

In an effort to hypo the offense and thereby bring more people into its ballpark and gain some sort of attendance parity with the National League, the AL put through the strongest rule change in many years.

Before a game, each team may designate a hitter to bat in place of that day's pitcher. He may bat anywhere in the lineup. Use of a DH is not mandatory, but if there is no DH on a team's lineup card, there will be no DH that day. Any pinch hitter or pinch runner for the designated hitter in turn assumes the role of DH.

The DH may be used defensively, continuing to bat in the same position in the batting order, but the pitcher must then bat in place of the substituted defensive player.

Among the many pros and cons on the subject is this comment from DH himself:

"I like the rule," says Doug Howard. "I think the designated hitter can condition himself to become part of the game, much more so than a plain pinch hitter. Personally, the rule might have brought me to the majors a year early. I don't mind being the DH at all...as long as I'm in the game and can swing a bat."

Some teams will have DH specialists—Cepeda for the Boston Red Sox, Oliva for the Minnesota Twins, Brown and Frank Howard for the Detroit Tigers.

Others will play it by ear.

"I will pick my DH according to the park and the pitcher and will use it to rest my regulars at times while keeping them in the batting order," says Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees.

"Who we use as our designated hitter will depend on who's pitching," says Dick Williams of the world champion A's. "We're not a power-hitting club. I'm looking for someone who can make contact with the ball and run the bases well. I'll also give players like Sal Bando and Reggie Jackson a rest occasionally and use them as our designated hitter."

"Who I use will depend on the situation," says Kansas City's Jack McKeon. "It may boil down to whether I want speed or power in a game."

California slugger Bob Oliver doesn't like the rule, especially in just one league.

"I don't think one league should have adopted the rule and not the other. The American League has become a guinea pig. It's not right. If you are going to have an experiment, go all the way. I'm not the designated hitter type, personally. It's no fun going to the plate and not on the field. I want to be in the game all the time instead of sitting around catching cold."

But in general, the benchwarmers seem to like it and the regulars don't. There doesn't seem to be much printable comment from pitchers who don't have to bother with hitting but by the same token no longer have a sure out in the opposition lineup.

"I like it better than sitting on the bench," says reserve infielder Bernie Allen of the Yankees.

But Billy Conigliaro, who was mentioned as a possibility for the DH job with Oakland but instead will open in center field, summed it up best:

"I'd rather be the designated center fielder."

Baltimore Bullets Face 'Must' Game

By FRED ROTHENBERG
Associated Press Sports Writer

Deja vu is a sense of having seen something before. But for the Baltimore Bullets it means trouble.

The Bullets were eliminated from last season's National Basketball Association playoffs by the New York Knicks and are down 2-0 to the same team this year.

So it's understandable if Baltimore doesn't like what it sees—or saw.

"All I know is we have to win the next game," says Bullets' Coach Gene Shue, who sends his team against the Knicks tonight in Baltimore.

Meanwhile in the American Basketball Association playoffs Tuesday night the Carolina Cougars defeated the New York Nets 101-91, the Kentucky Colonels edged the Virginia Squires 115-113 in overtime and the Denver Rockets beat the Indiana Pacers 105-94. Carolina, Kentucky and Indiana all now have 2-1 leads in their respective best-of-7 divisional semifinal series.

In tonight's only other NBA playoff the Boston Celtics travel to Atlanta with a 1-0 lead in their best-of-7 series with the Hawks while the Utah Stars have the same series margin as they host the San Diego Conquistadors in the night's only ABA contest.

Atlanta Hawks' Coach Cotton Fitzsimmons is not seeing his past in his present, only because he wasn't around last year to see the Celtics erase Atlanta in six games. He's just seeing too much John Havlicek.

Havlicek led a personal march through Atlanta by scoring 54 points, a Celtic single-game scoring record, in Boston's 134-109 win.

The Kentucky Colonels lost a 10-point fourth-period lead, then came from behind in overtime Tuesday night for a 115-113 victory over the Virginia Squires and a 2-1 lead in their ABA playoff series.

Kentucky Coach Joe Mullaney said the Squires "played as aggressive a defense as I've ever seen them play."

The Eastern Division-winning Carolina Cougars also took a 2-1 edge in their playoff series with the New York Nets as Billy Cunningham came off the bench to score nine of his team's final 20 points in the 101-91 victory.

Marichal, Bench 'In Top Shape'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Johnny Bench and Juan Marichal aren't likely to keep baseball's opening day in stitches. But they could.

San Francisco's Marichal, who'll pitch against the Reds in the traditional major league opener here Thursday, and Bench, Cincinnati's slugging catcher who was voted the National League's most valuable player last season, both are post-operative types as the new campaign opens.

Marichal went under the knife last October for back problems that contributed to his lowly 6-16 record in 1972. Bench underwent surgery in December for removal of a benign lesion from his right lung.

Both appear to have returned to pre-operation form.

"I'm fine. 100 per cent. I'm happy," Bench said Tuesday in a telephone interview from the Reds' Tampa, Fla., training site.

"I feel fine," says Marichal.

The apparent recovery of the two stars bodes well for their individual teams entering the new season, a campaign in which the Reds are expected to win the NL Western Division with strong challenges from Houston and, possibly, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Atlanta.

The Giants won the NL West two seasons ago, with Marichal healthy. The Reds romped to a pennant last year with Bench having a solid season that included 40 home runs, and 125 runs batted in.

Bench believes the Reds will repeat their Western Division title, but not without a fight.

"We've played well in spring training," he said. "We feel we're in real sound shape going north."

"We realize," he added, "that the competition in the West is very difficult and it's going to be hard to repeat."

If Marichal and slugger Willie McCovey are recovered from injury problems, Bench says, "San Francisco can beat anybody."

Marichal was held out of a scheduled start against Los Angeles Monday because of a pulled leg muscle but threw for 30 minutes, and reported all was well.

"I threw everything," he said. "Screwball, slider, change, fast ball, everything, and I feel fine. There no longer should be any doubt if I will pitch the opening game," he said.

Marichal is slated to face Cincinnati's Don Gullett, a hard throwing right-hander.

A standing-room-only crowd of about 52,000 is expected for the opener.

Bid To Fix Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — International Track Association sprinter Warren Edmonson has revealed that he was offered a bribe of $5,000 to throw a race in the ITA's first professional track and field meet.

Edmonson, 22, said he told ITA President Mike O'Hara about the bribe offer the following day and O'Hara informed the FBI. A spokesman for the FBI confirmed the story Tuesday, saying, "We're looking into the matter and right now we have made no arrests."

Baseball Opener Sellout Seen

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

A sellout crowd of 52,000 is expected to pack Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium Thursday as the 1973 major league baseball season gets underway in the same ballpark where the 1972 campaign ended last October.

The host Reds hope for a happier ending this time.

Left-hander Don Gullett will open for Cincinnati, which lost the seventh and deciding game of last year's World Series against Oakland at home. Opposing him will be veteran Juan Marichal of the San Francisco Giants.

Both pitchers are hoping for comebacks from poor 1972 seasons. Gullett, troubled by mononucleosis, managed only a 9-10 log while Marichal, who had a variety of back and arm ailments, managed only 6-16.

Super Bowl Solo Event

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The top professional football team will be decided after only one Super Bowl game each year.

National Football League owners rejected a proposal Tuesday that would form a best two-out-of-three series to select the top team.

The rejection of the proposal offered by Oakland Raiders owner Al Davis came after club owners named New Orleans as the site of the 1975 game and Miami for the 1976 clash between the two conference champions.

New Orleans will stage Super Bowl IX Jan. 12, 1975 in the new Louisiana Superdome, providing the $150,000 million structure is completed in time. The giant stadium features six television screens suspended from the roof to provide instant replays of field action.

Rozelle said Miami was chosen for the 1976 game because it is one of four principal sites selected by President Nixon to lead the bicentennial celebration. He called the contest a fitting kickoff to the celebration.

Bench Still Fights Slump

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Johnny Bench continued in a spring slump as the Cincinnati Reds closed out Grapefruit League play with a 1-0 victory over Detroit Tuesday, but nobody seemed too concerned about it.

After all, the Reds' 17 wins in 26 games was best among the 24 major league teams. Bench contributed a pale .157 batting average.

Tuesday, it was a first-inning single by Tony Perez and a solid eight inning pitching stint by Ross Grimsley that produced another Reds win.

Grimsley allowed only four hits and Pedro Borbon wrapped it up, pitching himself out of a ninth-inning jam.

Bench, who struck out four times Monday night, fouled out in his only appearance at the plate Tuesday.

"I wanted to go out looking good," he grumbled. "I'm just not hep," said the National League's 1972 Most Valuable Player.

CHS Game Cancelled

Today's baseball game between Circleville and Wilmington has been cancelled. It will be rescheduled at a later date.

GORDON'S

Main & Scioto Sts.

Bob Moose and Jim "Catfish" Hunter had the right spin on the ball in Tuesday's exhibition games while Bob Robertson, Dick Allen, Reggie Jackson and John Stephenson had their bats on the ball.

In afternoon action, St. Louis blanked Boston 3-0, Cincinnati nosed out Detroit 1-0, Pittsburgh blitzed Philadelphia 8-1, the Chicago White Sox topped Texas 5-4, the Chicago Cubs edged Cleveland, California beat Milwaukee 5-4 and Oakland defeated San Diego 3-2. In night games, the New York Yankees upended the New York Mets 6-5, Minnesota silenced Houston 2-0 and Los Angeles downed San Francisco 6-2. Atlanta vs. Baltimore at Savannah, Ga., was rained out.

Cleveland hurled a three-hitter through eight innings for the Cardinals, limiting the Red Sox to Ben Ogilvie's second-inning single until Reggie Smith and Ogilvie hit two-out singles in the seventh. He also singled and doubled and drove in a run.

Grimsley of Cincinnati tossed fourth hit ball for eight innings. The Reds got only four hits off the Tigers' Woodie Fryman and Tom Timmerman, but used two of them for their run in the first inning as Bobby Tolan singled, stole second, took third on catcher Bill Freehan's high throw and scored on Tony Perez' single.

Robertson drove in three runs with a single and a homer, leading an 18-hit attack, and Moose yielded five singles in seven scoreless innings as Pittsburgh shelled Philadelphia. Allen's first homer of the spring drove in two seventh-inning runs to lift the White Sox past the Rangers.

Jackson hit a wind-blown, two-run homer and Hunter retired all 12 batters he faced as Oakland downed the Padres.

Stephenson drove in the tying run in the seventh inning and hit a game-winning single in the ninth for the Angels.

Gene Hiser's steal of home in the eighth carried the Cubs over Cleveland.

Ron Blomberg's ninth-inning broken-bat single through a drawn-in infield scored Matty Alou with the winning run as the Yankees overcame the Mets 6-5.

Danny Thompson knocked in two runs and pitchers Bert Blyleven and Ray Corbin shared a five-hitter to lead the Twins past the Astros.

Andy Messersmith pitched the Dodgers past the Giants, giving up only one hit in six innings. Ron Bryant was whacked for nine of the 11 Los Angeles hits. He yielded four runs—two unearned—in the first inning.

Jack Nicklaus Man To Beat In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Lee Trevino had a firm, succinct response when somebody asked him if Jack Nicklaus could be beaten in the Masters golf tournament, starting Thursday.

"Sure," replied the normally loquacious golfer, "if it rains."

Competitors had one eye on the heavy skies and the other on the game's Mr. Marvel as they completed tuncups today for the 72-hole, four-day test over the rain-saturated Augusta National course—an event which Nicklaus has won four times in 10 years and is heavily favored to take again.

"Jack certainly is the man to beat," acknowledged Trevino, the season's leading money winner with more than $100,000. "But all of us will have a better chance if it stays damp like this."

"Jack's big advantage is that he drives so far that he is able to float higher shots to the greens. If the greens stay soft, it will be a big break for us guys who have to fire at them with longer clubs."

Nicklaus, who described his Tuesday practice round as "just fair," said normally wet conditions bring the field closer together. But that would not be true on a course as massive as Augusta.

"Personally, I like it to be dry and fast," he said. "But I don't care how it is as long as I'm playing well."

Nobody—not even Trevino—seemed ready to bell the cat—the big, blond cat from Columbus, Ohio, who is aiming for his 14th major title, one more than collected by the late Bob Jones.

"There's no doubt that Jack goes into the tournament with a tremendous edge," said Bill Casper, two-time U.S. Open champion and winner here in 1970. "The course is tailor-made for his game. He drives on the other side of the hills and he plays the par fives as if they were fours."

HOW VALUABLE

... IS LOCAL NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO LOCAL BUSINESS FIRMS?

Here's what the "American Bankers" magazine, a publication that represents a traditionally conservative profession, has to say:

"NO BUSINESS MAN OR WOMAN IN ANY TOWN SHOULD ALLOW A NEWSPAPER TO GO TO PRESS WITHOUT HIS OR HER NAME BEING MENTIONED IN ITS COLUMNS"

"A stranger picking up a newspaper should be able to tell what business is represented in a town . . . it's the best possible town advertiser. The man or woman who does not advertise does an injustice to himself or herself and definitely to the town."

United Phone Rate Increase Bid Recessed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Public Utilities Commission of Ohio hearing on a $9.4 million emergency rate hike request by United Telephone of Ohio has been recessed until April 13.

The increase would, if granted, mean an average boost of about $2.50 a month for United Telephone's 330,000 subscribers in 52 Ohio counties.

United had asked the hearing while the commission reviews an earlier request for a $18 million permanent rate increase.

Company officials claim that an immediate boost is needed to pay interest on $30 million in bonds sold to finance new construction and service expansion.

R. D. Adkins, UT rate and revenue director, testified Tuesday that should the company lose its bond rating, $4 million in higher costs would have to be passed on to the subscribers.

Spokesmen for protesting subscribers claim the increase is "unfair and unreasonable." And they claim the company does not provide good service.

A hearing examiner for the PUCO reminded subscribers that Ohio law does not make quality of service a necessary factor in determining the need of a utility for a rate increase.

Several people in the crowd attending the hearing said they would start circulating petitions against the boost and Theodore High of Cincinnati, an attorney for some 20 affected municipalities said he would argue that subscribers' testimony be introduced.

The communities affected by the proposed rate boosts include Mansfield, Lima, Lebanon, Napoleon and Bellefontaine.

United Telephone is a subsidiary of United Telecommunications of Kansas City.

A spokesman for the PUCO said a decision is likely "in a few weeks."

See Increase In U.S. Aid To Saigon

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — The White House sees increased economic aid to South Vietnam as likely in the wake of President Nixon's summit with Saigon's Nguyen Van Thieu. But officials refuse to speculate about threatened "vigorous reactions" to Communist truce violations.

Shortly after the South Vietnamese president left the Western White House Tuesday, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said economic aid to the Saigon government would be "probably beyond the level that we're providing them now."

He estimated current aid at more than $500 million a year.

Nixon and Thieu, who spent more than eight hours together, joined in saying they "viewed with great concern infiltrations of men and weapons in sizable numbers from North Vietnam into South Vietnam in violation of the agreement on ending the war."

In a communique, the two leaders said "actions which would threaten the basis of the agreement would call for appropriately vigorous reactions."

Although Secretary of Defense Elliot Richardson told Congress Tuesday any massive movement of northern forces into the south might lead to renewed U.S. air operations over Vietnam, Ziegler would not be drawn into a similar public stance.

CLARK AIR BASE, Philippines (AP)—Operation Homecoming closed its doors at Clark Air Base today after shepherding 590 American prisoners of war through their first taste of freedom.

The job of extracting the POWs from captivity in Vietnam, and of returning them to the United States ended with the departure of the last prisoner, Capt. Robert T. White of Newport News, Va.

The men who flew out of Vietnam were greeted as heroes. Many showed their emotion as they heard the cheers of Americans stationed at Clark Field who turned out to greet them.

As they walked from the plane in blue-gray shirts and trousers supplied by their captors, signs of their ordeal could be seen. Their faces were gaunt. Many limped or had crippled arms.

Bond Issues Defeated

AMHERST, Ohio, (AP)—Two school bond issues were defeated by Amherst Local School District voters in a special election Tuesday.

The eyes of many were glazed. Some were humble, almost abject.

Three or four days at Clark changed a lot of that. Renewed confidence swept over them as the realization that they really were free sank in. Big steaks and large portions of ice cream gave a lift to the mind as well as the body.

More than five years ago American officials began drawing up contingency plans for the eventual release of the POWs.

"We planned on everything from picking up a bunch of basket cases to a bunch of tigers jumping on the aircraft and raising hell. As it turned out, mostly they were physically in good shape," said one official.

As presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger's peace negotiations drew to a close and Clark was chosen as the base where all U.S. POWs would make their first stop in freedom, specialists began arriving to handle the operation.

The operation began Feb. 12 when 116 POWs were freed in Hanoi and another 27 were released after a delay of several hours in Loc Ninh, north of Saigon.

The first POW to step out of the plane on free soil, Navy Capt. Jeremiah A. Denton of Mobile, Ala., set the tone for other returning speeches when he said: "We are profoundly grateful to our commander-in-chief and to our nation for this day. God bless America."

The vast majority of POWs whose opinions slipped through the strict security net thrown around them supported President Nixon and his December bombing of North Vietnam to spur the stalled peace negotiations.

Eight enlisted men who made anti-war statements for the Viet Cong were whisked through preliminary medical checks at Clark and flown back to the United States a day ahead of time to reduce the chances of any newsmen getting to them.

Cigarette Flow Curbs Promoted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill to make it a federal crime to transport contraband cigarettes in interstate commerce was introduced today by Sens. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., and James L. Buckley, Conservative-N.Y.

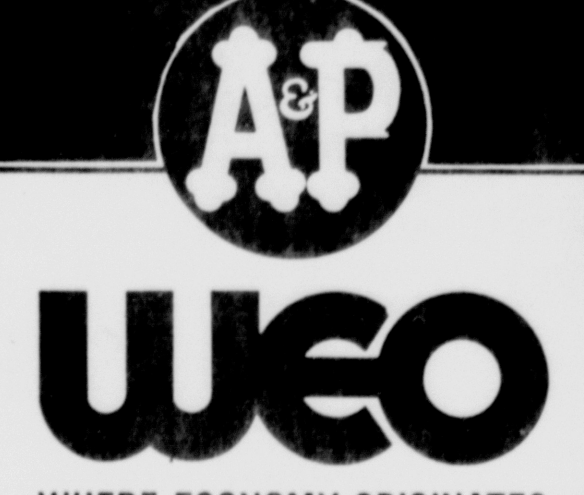

They said the legislation would help eliminate racketeering in the sale of cigarettes.

It would also reduce the serious drain on state and local revenues by providing more effective enforcement of cigarette tax laws, said the senators.

The routine of getting the men through preliminary medical checks, of fitting them with uniforms and of getting information which might determine if missing servicemen were alive or dead went smoothly. Usually it took three days—far less than the 14 days which originally was thought might be necessary.

The wind-down of Operation Homecoming began last Thursday, when the last group of prisoners arrived. The special personnel began slipping back to their posts in Hawaii, Okinawa and other bases around the Pacific.

Dumpy Faces Death By Distemper

SALEM, Ohio (AP) — Dumpy the dog survived man's best efforts to kill him. Now man's neglect may finish the job.

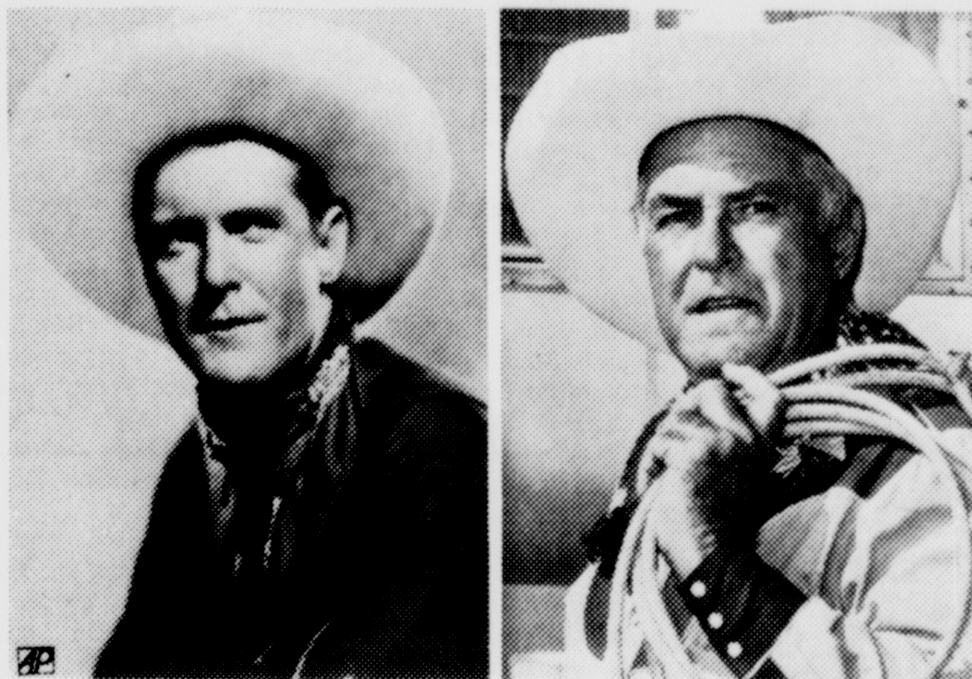

Veterinarians ruled Tuesday that the dog's being gassed, shot and abandoned in a landfill last month weakened him enough to unleash the effects of a bout with distemper he had while a pup.

"They said he'll get a little bit better, then a little bit worse," reported Joyce Guiler, one of two Salem women who rescued Dumpy in March. But the condition will slowly get worse, she said.

"And then he'll die."

"It's really something, all right," Mrs. Guiler said, her voice breaking. Dumpy, who lived through almost certain death, would die for the lack of a puppyhood inoculation.

Hundreds of people across the country were stirred by Dumpy's survival. Offers of homes flooded into Salem, and $152 in donations were

Big Increase Seen In Ohio Business

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "Minding our business" in Ohio produced a significant increase last year in business and industrial growth, the state department of Economic and Community Development reported Tuesday.

Development Director David C. Sweet said 1,134 companies announced new and expanded facilities during 1972, an increase of 366 over 1971.

Sweet said the growth meant at least 20,000 new jobs and a capital investment surpassing $1 billion.

J.C. Penney Co. and Ford Motor Company topped the 1972 list in new employe openings and dollar investment.

Penney announced plans for a catalogue distribution center in Columbus providing 2,500 new jobs.

In Lima, Ford began a $90 million plant to employ 1,200 workers in the production of the mini-compact Pinto.

Sweet said the 1972 figure included the entire Ohio business community from heavy industry to financial services.

"We've logged not just the growth of the manufacturing sector, but the fast growing service sector and high technology oriented firms—the growth industries of the future," he said.

He added, "The 1972 rise in new and expanded firms can be attributed to two development philosophies: 'minding our own business' at home and seeking out new industry selectively for Ohio beyond our borders."

The department began in 1972 a fulltime program aimed at keeping businesses in Ohio and helping other companies expand, he said.

His office worked with 91 individual companies to solve problems of staying and expanding while assisting 27 communities around the state to promote local development efforts.

Sweet said Ohio development teams used selective strategy in conducting five out-of-state trips in 1972.

He said the teams made 900 firm contacts and 140 of them became active prospects for location and expansion in the state.

Kurfess Eyes Possible Bid For Senate

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The minority leader of the Ohio House, Charles Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, has acknowledged that he is giving what he termed, cautious, but serious thought to a U.S. Senate candidacy next year.

Kurfess said Tuesday that in all likelihood the seriousness of his Senate interest would depend on whether incumbent U.S. Sen. William Saxbe decides to seek re-election. Saxbe has been urged to seek the 1974 Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Asked to comment on reports that he had been discussing a possible Senate candidacy with other Republicans, Kurfess said, "You're darned right I'm interested."

"Anyone who has spent as much time in the legislative arena as I have couldn't help but be interested" in the U.S. Senate.

The Perrysburg Republican said he hasn't given up on the possibility of running for governor, but he acknowledged that former Gov. James A. Rhodes, at least on the surface, appears to be the front-runner if his eligibility for a third term survives a state Supreme Court ruling expected this spring.

Kurfess also said there is considerable feeling among the state's Republicans that Saxbe, if he could be talked into returning to Ohio, would make a good choice for governor.

Cincinnati Fire Probed

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Arson investigators have been called following a fire in law offices of Cincinnati's tallest building Tuesday night.

An early-evening fire on the 22nd floor of Carew Tower caused an estimated $15,000 after eight fire companies battled the blaze for two and one-half hours.

Damaged was the law firm of Purcell, Sullivan and Young. State Rep. Chester T. Cruze, R-22 Cincinnati, and former representative Dale G. Schmidt are associated with the firm.

The 10-room office complex in the 48-story building had extensive damage to records, court litigations, and income tax files.

The alarm was turned in by witnesses in a hotel across the street.

Tahiti is governed by a representative of France who is aided by a locally elected territorial assembly of 30 persons.

banked in an account in Dumpy's name.

Dumpy—whose real name was Tiny—had been turned over to the Mahoning County Dog Pound with the understanding he would be placed in a home with children.

Instead, he was gassed in the back of a dog van and thrown in front of a bulldozer. When he staggered out of its path, a deputy dog warden fired four shots at him, hitting him twice in the chest.

Mrs. Guiler and Jean Fluaharty, who heard the story, took flashlights to the dump that night and found the dog huddled in a small shack, still alive. His recovery was slow, however, and a local veterinarian urged them to take the dog to the Ohio State University veterinary clinic in Columbus.

Mrs. Guiler drove the dog halfway across the state and back Tuesday. She returned to Salem Tuesday night with the sad news.

The clinic had been able to tell her little except that the dog's condition was hopeless, she said. She said the veterinarian hadn't known for sure how long he would live.

Dumpy can still walk, although he limps because his hindquarters are partially paralyzed, "and the only time he has any pain now is when you rub the muscles in his legs," she said. The doctors told her that was because "the nerve coatings had fallen off," she said.

They said the condition would spread.

Trade Delegation In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — The first U.S. trade delegation to visit East Berlin is now conferring with officials in the East German capital.

Neues Deutschland, the official East German newspaper, said 17 top executives of leading American firms landed at East Berlin's Schoenefeld airport instead of in West Berlin as visitors from the West did in the past.

The importance the East German government was placing on the visit was illustrated by a front-page picture of the Americans conversing with State Secretary Gerhard Beil of the Foreign Trade Ministry at a cocktail party he gave for the Americans.

Seek To Plug New Leaks On Watergate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate investigations committee, acting to plug a flood of leaked information, said Tuesday it will hold no more secret sessions with convicted Watergate spy James W. McCord Jr.

All further interviews with McCord will be conducted by the committee staff at undisclosed times and places with a view to beginning open hearings within 10 days to two weeks, a committee spokesman said.

A secret session scheduled with McCord Wednesday before the full committee was canceled.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the committee chairman, said his panel does not expect to hold private formal sessions with any other witness.

Ervin told a news conference there are "indications" that either McCord or his attorney, Bernard Fensterwald, may have been the sources of the leaks which triggered newspaper stories on what McCord told the committee in private last Wednesday.

Monday, after yet another news account quoted supposedly secret testimony linking the White House to the spying, President Nixon's press secretary, Ronald L. Ziegler, complained of "irresponsible leaks" and called on Ervin to "get his house in order."

Resume Trial In 14-State Theft Ring

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — The trial of 24 persons charged in an alleged 14-state car theft ring resumed this morning in U.S. District Court with 13 jurors still to be selected.

Selection of five jurors was made final Tuesday in proceedings before U.S. District Judge Mac Swinford.

About 300 persons have been called to serve on the panel from which 12 jurors and six alternates will be chosen.

The 24 defendants were indicted last August by a federal grand jury which contended they had conspired in the formation of an auto theft, alteration and resale ring.

The ring was alleged to have operated since 1968 in about 14 states, including Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee, Alabama, North Carolina, Arkansas, Georgia, Missouri and Mississippi.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Fred Partin has said the government will call more than 900 witnesses during the trial, which is expected to last about four months.

2 Bodies Recovered From Ottawa River

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — The bodies of two University of Toledo students, Dave Parker, 19, and Jim Gregory, 20, were recovered Tuesday from the Ottawa River.

The two drowned March 15 when their rubber boat capsized while they were shooting a dam on the river near the campus.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell.

Anderson supplied The Associated Press with a copy of the alleged McCord memorandum, but it carried no signatures or other identifying marks, and its authenticity could not be determined.

However, a source familiar with the matter said the memo appears to be an authentic copy of one McCord supplied to the committee on March 26.

The memo quoted Liddy as saying "bugging and other related operations" were discussed in February 1972 by Liddy; Mitchell; White House counsel John W. Dean III, and Jeb Magruder, another Nixon campaign official.

Foes Of Lottery Pick Up Convert

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans against the Lottery Tax officially launched its campaign against the issue on the May ballot today, quickly picking up a convert.

House Minority Leader Charles F. Kurfess, R-83 Perrysburg, met with anti-lottery leader Dr. Paul Minus on the south steps of the capitol.

After accepting the first of 14,000 packets with material against a lottery, Kurfess said he saw no need for one in Ohio.

"Even Gov. Gilligan says we do not need the money," Kurfess said. "I think this is the wrong way to raise money at the wrong time. There is no need."

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Leonard K. Mumaw, who passed away 1 year ago, April 4, 1972.
We wanted so much to keep you
We watched you day by day
Until at last with breaking heart
We saw you pass away.
Now the evening star shines on the grave
Of the one we loved but could not save.
God took him home, it was His will.
But in our hearts we love him still.
Sadly missed by wife,
grandchildren
brothers and sisters.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Dinah Shore was just breaking into the big time here some years ago when she had a backstage interview with a newspaperman named H. Allen Smith.

The cad didn't tell her he was of the Fourth Estate. She didn't ask, either. She thought he was a musician. The result was a wonderful interview that caught her with her guard down and her humor up.

She now has a press agent to at least alert her when a scrivener is on the premises. But that seemed about the only difference the other day when the alert sounded and a scrivener was ushered into her hotel suite here to meet her.

Miss Shore was in town on a gray, rainy day to promote a women's golf show on which she was appearing on ABC television. She was sunny and chipper.

Somehow the talk went immediately from that of the music business. Miss Shore is an expert golfer, but I realized how much of a pro she is when it comes to music matters. Particularly when it involves the sound we hear at home on TV.

She mildly griped about one of my long-standing gripes — those one-watt speakers most TV sets seem to come equipped with — and bemoaned the fact that most television transmitters "jam" sound signals.

That is, they compress the high and low frequencies so that no matter how good the musical arrangements or the recording at the TV studio, everything comes out sounding tinny at home.

"It seems that they gear

Dean Blocks GAO Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional auditors say White House Counsel John W. Dean III claimed executive privilege to bar them from inspecting information on pre-election flights by administration officials last year.

The case was cited by an official of the General Accounting Office, audit agency for Congress, as the House government information subcommittee began hearings Tuesday on legislation spelling out limits of presidential power to withhold information from Congress or GAO.

While "account records" for President Nixon's office are available for GAO review, information such as passenger lists for presidential flights "has traditionally been considered personal to the president and thus not the proper subject of congressional inquiry," Dean wrote GAO in a Nov. 20, 1972, letter made public at the hearing by GAO General Counsel Paul G. Dembling.

"All political flights made during September were billed to the Committee to Re-elect the President," Dean added, "and that data will, of course, be reflected in the committee's financial reports."

GAO generally received "good cooperation in obtaining access to records of executive departments," Dembling testified. "In the recent past, with one exception, we have not had executive privilege used as a basis for refusing information to GAO," he added, citing the Dean case as the exception.

This involved a GAO attempt to study records of flights in military planes last September by Nixon and his family, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, White House staff members and Cabinet officers, and the extent to which Nixon's re-election committee reimbursed the government for these flights, Dembling said.

Rep. William S. Moorhead, D-Pa., chairman of the subcommittee, accused the administration of taking an "arrogant position" regarding a supply of witnesses for the hearing.

The panel "has received little cooperation from most of the executive-branch witnesses invited to testify on this important legislation," Moorhead said, and, "except for the Department of Justice, all have declined to testify despite vigorous efforts to obtain their cooperation."

The chief sponsor of the legislation, Rep. John N. Erlenborn, R-Ill., senior GOP member of the subcommittee, said a past failure by legislators to "acknowledge the existence of executive privilege—and to impose reasonable limits—has had the effect of Congress' acquiescence in its existence and use."

Nixon has cited executive privilege in refusing to allow aides to testify formally before congressional committees in connection with the wiretapping of Democratic national headquarters.

The legislation would assert the right of Congress to all information except when a president refuses on grounds that disclosure would "seriously jeopardize" the national interest and hinder his ability to get forthright advice.

Modified No-Fault Insurance Plan Pushed By Federation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A spokesman for the Insurance Federation of Ohio has urged adoption of a "modified no-fault" insurance plan at a joint meeting Tuesday night of the House and Senate insurance committees.

William C. Cook, federation president and also president of the Republic-Franklin Insurance Cos., told a joint meeting of the House and Senate insurance committees Tuesday night that a modified plan "responds to all major documented problems in the present auto reparations system."

Sen. Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, and Rep. William E. Hinig, D-96 New Philadelphia, had called their committees together for an orientation session on no-fault, a type of insurance in which injured parties may collect from their own insurance companies, regardless of who was to blame for an accident.

Several versions of no-fault are pending in the House and Senate.

Cook told the joint committee that of three existing types—"pure" "add on," and modified—the modified plan excels because it incorporates "the best features" of the other two.

Under the "pure" system, Cook said an individual no longer would be able to sue for damages in a court... "the effect would be to eliminate the tort system in compensating auto accident victims."

Modified would set limits beyond which injured parties could file suit.

"At the other end of the spectrum," Cook said, is "the add on system which can best be described as patch work" and usually will "dramatically increase insurance costs." The add on means that coverage under the system would be added to present insurance costs, he said.

He said the insurance industry strongly recommends the modified no-fault as the best of the three possible.

Ethics Bill Sparks Sharp Fight In Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A bill requiring state lawmakers and other state and local officials to disclose both the sources and amount of their incomes produced political fireworks Tuesday night.

A Republican member of the Ohio House State Government Committee accused Democratic Gov. John Gilligan of making it a 1974 campaign re-election issue. Democrats denied it and asserted Republicans were dragging their feet at a time when government needs to restore public confidence.

The debate marked the first full committee hearing on the strong ethics bill which, after admitted administration urging, came out of a House subcommittee earlier in the day. Rep. Patrick A. Sweeney, D-6 Cleveland, chairman of the subcommittee, defended it.

Sweeney said a weaker version Republicans said they could support would fall short "of what we must have to make the public believe we are sincere." He also pointed out that Gilligan sought unsuccessfully for the same legislation when Republicans controlled the legislature two years ago and listed it as his top priority in January of this year.

Rep. Fred Young, R-38 Dayton, a subcommittee member, made the charge of politics. He said the governor's "pressure on the subcommittee after we were almost in agreement on a bill that could pass" amounted to a "blatant, cynical" attempt to use the ethics bill as a re-election issue.

Rep. Charles E. Fry, R-75 Springfield, a long-time supporter of ethics legislation in the past, called for moderation. "I don't think this should be a partisan issue. I think we should look to see where we are now, and try to work out a compromise," Fry said.

Acting Finance Director Robert Baker appeared as spokesman for the administration. He admonished the committee that opinion poll takers, "all of them, report a finding that less than 50 per cent of the public has confidence in their government officials."

Baker also reminded the committee that Gilligan by executive order required all state officials under him to make full financial disclosure. "You can go down to the secretary of state's office and find out all my assets and my salary to the dollar," Baker said.

The bill requires all members of the legislature and elected state and local officials including judges—and their appointees—to report to a state ethics commission the sources and dollar amounts of their income. The six-member commission would have the authority to initiate investigations of suspected conflicts of interest, and those found in violation would be subject to removal from office.

Fry, who signed the subcommittee minority report, objected on grounds that local officials should not be included, at least this year.

He said the legislature would "do well" to pass a law covering state officials and employees this session. He also questioned the need for requiring disclosure of dollar amounts of income, maintaining that identification of possible sources of conflict "is enough."

State Government Chairman Michael Del Bane, D-56 Hubbard, who first said he hoped his panel could vote on the proposal after a second hearing tonight, said hearings will continue "as long as witnesses want to testify." That indicated the committee may hold further hearings into next week.

In other developments, the Senate added its approval 33-0 to a House bill providing for the state to pay the cost of improving dangerous railroad grade crossings which then would have to be maintained by the railroads.

Senate sponsor Walter L. White, R-12 Lima, said under the present system, installation and maintenance are left up to agreements between financially hard-pressed local governments and "at times, bankrupt railroads." He said "it is clear this doesn't do the job."

Under the bill, which now goes back to the House for concurrence in minor Senate amendments, $100,000 a month from gasoline tax revenues would be set aside for a state railroad crossing improvement fund. The director of transportation would enter into agreements with the railroads for

'Good News Day' Begins Bible Distribution Week

Volunteers from area churches will distribute a version of the Bible titled "Good News For Modern Man" throughout Pickaway County next week, according to Charles McQuire, who is in charge of Key 73 scripture distribution.

Sunday, April 8, has been designated "Good News Day" by sponsoring agents, the Pickaway County Ministerial Association and Key 73 participating city and county churches.

Newell Stevenson, Jr., city chairman, and Stephen Cook, county chairman, said that 5,000 copies of the book will be delivered to area homes during the week.

Youth and adults are asked to contact their local church representative to volunteer services.

"Good News Day" for scripture distribution is part of the continent-wide Key 73 program for a better community today and a better world tomorrow. "Good News For Modern Man" is the paraphrased edition of the New Testament by the American Bible Society of New York. It was selected by the Ministerial Association for its modern language and ease of understanding.

GOOD NEWS DAY — Pastor Carl Zehner (left), president of the Pickaway County Ministerial Association, and Pastor H. Eugene Flowers display copies of "Good News For Modern Man," which will be distributed throughout the county during the week of April 8 in conjunction with Key 73 activities.
